HOUSE WRITES FIVE-MONTH INDUCTION 'HOLIDAY'

SEEKS TO AVERT SUGAR WALKOUT

Work Stoppage Would Cut Off Two-Thirds Of Cane Sugar Output

STRIKES LEAVE THOUSANDS WITHOUT TRANSPORTATION

(By Associated Press)

Conciliation Chief Edgar L. Warren made an eleventh hour attempt last night to avert an east coast sugar refining strike that would shut off two-thirds of the nation's cane sugar output.

He called a conciliation meeting for 8 p. m. (E. S. T.) last night in Washington—four hours before the strike deadline—with representatives of the American and National Sugar Refining Companies and the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. refinery workers' unions. A third company involved in the wage dispute, Revere of Boston, did not accept his invitation immediately, he said.

Some 8,000 members of the A. F. of L. Longshoremen and C. I. O. local industrial unions demanded 18 1/2 cents hourly wage boosts in seven plants in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. The union hiked its demands from 15 cents to the higher figure following collapse of conciliation efforts several days earlier.

The companies had bid up to 13 cents in some plants and labor department sources said one company indicated willingness to go to 14 cents.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach appointed a fact-finding panel but the unions declined to call off their scheduled strike unless the companies agreed to abide by the panel's recommendations. The companies turned down this demand.

Bus strikes left 90,000 residents of Lansing, Mich., and 75,000 residents of Kalamazoo, Mich., without public transportation.

A. F. of L. bus drivers in Lansing quit work upon expiration of a deadline for company acceptance of a fact-finding board's recommendation for a $1.10 hourly wage for a 48-hour week, A. F. of L. drivers in Kalamazoo demanded the same pay for their present 40-hour week they formerly received for 48 hours.

As conciliators in the soft coal dispute arranged separate conferences with the coal operators and the United Mine Workers, the solid fuels administration reported the first week of the coal strike cut production from 13,270,000 tons to 850,000 tons. A few mines under contract with other unions continued operations.

Some 740,000 were idle throughout the nation because of continuing strikes.

Louis H. Wildermann, attorney representing the AFL union, said that present hourly pay rates range from 68 cents an hour at Baltimore to 86 cents an hour at New York City.

The agriculture department said that for several weeks while the strike has been threatening it has curtailed liftings of raw sugar from Cuba in order to avoid a pile-up at refinery warehouses.

Any prolonged stoppage could cause a reduction in amounts of sugar rationed to housewives because present stocks are limited.

Plants affected are those of the Revere and American Sugar Refining companies at Boston; one of the National Sugar Refining company at New York; one of the National Sugar Refining company and two American subsidiary plants (McCann and Frank-

SEES SAFEGUARD IN CONSERVATION

BATON ROUGE, La., April 13.—(AP)—"Viewed in the light of dollars-and-cents value to the state and its people, conservation is the safeguard, the 'instrance' that we carry on natural resources and financial assets," P. A. Frye, state director of natural gas conservation, told members of the Louisiana wildlife federation here today.

Frye, speaking for Gov. Jimmie Davis who was unable to attend the annual state meeting, pointed out to the sportsmen and conservationists present that Louisiana's wildlife "in the aggregate" totaled more than $30,000,000 annually.

"This means that the 'wildlife industry' is of even greater financial importance," Frye said, "than the Louisiana rice crop, sugar crop, sweet potato crop, and many others. In addition, there is its added value of some $700,000 derived each year from the sale of various types of licenses."

Frye reviewed the value to the state of its wildlife as "the substance of livelihood for thousands of our citizens," declaring that if it is wantonly damaged these people will suffer financially, and as a tourist attraction to outsiders.

Guest of honor at today's luncheon was T. A. McAmis, executive secretary of the Arkansas Fish and Game Commission. Principal speaker at a banquet scheduled for tonight will be Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, Washington, D. C., president of the Wild Life Restoration Institute and a former head of the U. S. fish and wild life service.

State officers for the coming year will be elected at the final session Sunday morning.

Democrats Called For Angry Caucus

Gunning For Hannegan After Letters Infuriate Congressmen

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(Special)—A caucus of Democrats to protest the latest faux pas pulled by Democrat national committee headquarters has been scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

Rep. James Domengeaux of Louisiana presented a petition signed by 53 Democratic members of the House, calling for the caucus, which will be the first of its type in many many years, to Rep. Jere Cooper of Tennessee Saturday afternoon.

Cooper, chairman of the caucus, assured Domengeaux the meeting would be called for Wednesday afternoon, following the close of legislative business.

The petition was signed by four Louisiana members of the House. In addition to Domengeaux, who is one of the leaders of the protest group, Reps. Leonard Allen, Henry Larcade and F. Edward Hebert signed it.

The latest offense pulled by headquarters which aroused the ire of conservative Democrats, concerned letters sent to parish and county chairman throughout the country. Urging them to select good Progressive candidates for Congress in the fall elections. The letters were sent out over Party Chairman Robert E. Hannegan's signature. Headquarters hastily apologized and said the letters were only intended to be sent to chairman whose

'CONFUSION' IS LAID TO TRUMAN

Republican National Committee Raps President's First Year

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The national committee today described President Truman's first year in the White House as one of "confusion" in all fields.

"It is a national reflection of the man who didn't wish to be president," the committee said in a 3,500 review, adding:

"The record of Mr. Truman's year as president is a record of confusion—confusion in international relations, confusion in national affairs, and confusion throughout the administration."

The committee said when Mr. Truman got the news that he had become president "he felt, he said, 'as though the moon and the stars and all the planets' had fallen on him. During his year as president, Mr. Truman has shown that he never recovered from this catastrophe."

The committee said the Truman administration "is at war with Congress." And continued:

"Mr. Truman began his administration with unusual advantages. He had the pledges of both parties in Congress toward winning the war and establishing peace and security at home and abroad. Republican senators offered Mr. Truman a specific plan 'to avoid irreconcilable differences' by consultation with Republican leaders before any conflict developed over controversial legislation.

"But Mr. Truman failed to use his opportunities. He speedily ended his honeymoon with Congress, preferring to tread the leftward path of radical experimentation."

On foreign relations, the committee said the president "recites high-sounding statements of foreign policy. But

SAYS TORSO THAT OF MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN

MILWAUKEE, Ore., April 13.—(AP)—A nude torso discovered in the Willamette river was that of a woman past the middle age, a pathologist reported today.

Dr. Warren Hunter of the University of Oregon Medical School said after an autopsy that the woman was "about 50." Earlier reports had identified the body, found last night, as that of a girl in her teens or early twenties, and frantic parents beseiged police with inquiries all day.

Five tugboat men pulled another gunnysack from the river today near Oregon City Falls containing the arms and right thigh of the woman.

Two of the men, George Rakel and Frank Metic, had noticed the sack in the river several weeks ago and decided to investigate after hearing of last night's discovery.

Sheriff Fred Reaksecker said the hands had been chopped from the arms. Officers will start dragging the river tomorrow morning for the head, hands, the left leg and right calf.

The woman was about 5 feet, 2 to 4 inches tall, weighed approximately 140-150 pounds, and had light hair, Dr. Hunter reported.

"We're kind of stymied," Reaksecker said after receiving the autopsy report. "All our leads were kicked out from under us."

PERON PROMISES FOOD ASSISTANCE

Will Strive With 'All His Might' To Help Meet Situation

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—Col. Juan Peron, the president-elect of Argentina, has promised to meet the world food situation with "all his might," UNRRA announced tonight.

Word of Peron's support for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation program to try to meet famine conditions in war-devastated areas came from Francis B. Sayre, UNRRA's diplomatic adviser.

He had been sent to Argentina to enlist the cooperation of the Argentine government in the present need for wheat.

UNRRA Director General Fiorello H. La Guardia said in a statement that he had previously been advised that President Farrell, whom Peron will replace shortly, had indicated his willingness to cooperate.

Sayre discussed the famine situation with Peron at the latter's invitation.

"The president-elect from the very first moment," Sayre said in a cable to LaGuardia, "showed a vital interest and a concern in the suffering and starving people of Europe.

"I told him frankly that Argentina had the opportunity to help suffering humanity as never before without hesitation. He declared that Argentina will help to the full extent of her ability in every way that is practicable. He pledged to me that when he comes into office he will push the government's program for meeting the world emergency with all his might.

Meanwhile La Guardia expressed belief that a 35 percent set-aside of American grain at the flour mills would meet UNRRA's wheat requirements.

He so messaged British Prime Minister Attlee and other officials after urging the British to spare as much as possible from their limited food grain stocks to make prompt aid effective.

La Guardia said he was hopeful that the United States government would issue the necessary grain set-aside order "within a few hours," but no order was in sight this afternoon at the department of agriculture.

In a talk at Columbia University in New York, La Guardia urged that President Truman put into effect a set-aside order calling for 25 percent of all wheat delivered to mills be earmarked for foreign relief to meet immediate needs.

The 35 percent set-aside La Guardia mentioned to the British was apparently his over-all estimate.

The senate small business committee meanwhile, reported getting a snowstorm of complaints that small American firms are hardest hit by the Grain-for-Europe program. The committee asked secretary of agriculture Anderson to discuss the situation with it on Monday.

Senators, particularly from the midwest, have received complaints that flour mills are threatened with a shutdown for lack of grain. Complaints also have come from small bake shops that they will be forced to close if their volume is reduced below the "break-even" point.

P.-T. A. MEETING TO STRESS CHARACTER

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Roger P. Sharp, president of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher Association, announced here today that "Character, the Cornerstone of Citizenship" will be the theme of the annual P.-T. A. convention at Shreveport on April 25, 26, and 27.

Plans have been completed for the first convention to be held by the P.-T. A. since the imposition of travel restrictions during the war.

Among the speakers will be Don M. Ewing, associate editor of the Shreveport Times. He will discuss the "Advantage of an Appointive Superintendent" for Louisiana schools.

Other speakers include L. K. Bishop, of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; Dr. J. M. Artman of Chicago, editor of the magazine "Character and Citizenship," Dr. Eric Voegelin of Louisiana State University and Dr. Joseph Mickle, president of Centenary College.

Mrs. Sharp, a resident of New Orleans, will preside at the general sessions. Among those who will extend greetings are Mrs. S. R. Clay of Shreveport, convention chairman; Mayor Sam Caldwell; Roscoe H. White, superintendent of schools in Shreveport; Mrs. Fred Simon, district director, and Mrs. J. L. Jackson, Shreveport council president.

Poland And Mexico To Fight Franco Proposal For Atomic Investigation

Invitation May Be Rejected Because Of Spain's Restrictions

By Max Harrelson

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—Poland and Mexico indicated today they were prepared to fight the Franco suggestion that "friendly" powers in the United Nations investigate charges that German scientists are working on the atomic bomb in Spain.

It still was too early to tell whether they would win enough support in the security council to defeat the proposal, but some delegates expressed the belief privately that it would be rejected because of the limitations laid down by Generalissimo Franco.

Three conditions were specified in the Spanish communique issued in Madrid last night:

1. The commission must be made up of representatives of nations with which Spain maintains friendly relations.

2. It must limit its activities to visiting manufacturing establishments and experiment stations to ascertain the truth or falsity of the atomic bomb charges.

3. It must agree to give ample publicity to the results.

Most of the delegates were reluctant to commit themselves on the question pending receipt of the official invitation from Spain, but informed quarters expressed the belief that Soviet Russia was likely to object strenuously to these conditions.

The British and American delegations, although not opposed to sending a commission to Spain, were represented as feeling that the council should not limit the scope of the investigation to the atomic bomb question alone.

Under the Franco limitations, five of the 11 nations on the security council would not be permitted to be represented on the commission. Russia, Poland, Mexico, China and Australia do not maintain diplomatic relations with the Franco government.

WANTS UNITED NATIONS ASSISTANCE IN ELECTION

EXPECT SEVERE MEAT SHORTAGES

Insufficient Supply Seen In Next Few Months In Some Sections

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—Civilians in eastern, southern and far western parts of the country probably will run into rather severe shortages of meat during the next few months.

This prospect was indicated today by an agriculture department report on the national food situation which said the absence of rationing and other wartime controls probably will raise many problems in distribution of smaller supplies.

The report said that civilian supplies are expected to decline during the months ahead because of a normal seasonal drop in livestock marketings, low commercial stocks of pork, and substantial takings of meat for export to hungry areas abroad.

Reductions in meat supplies usually are felt first in areas distant from the midwest, where the bulk of the nation's livestock is produced, marketed and slaughtered.

With consumer buying power continuing at a high level in the midwest as well as elsewhere in the country, the tendency will be for the former region to take "first crack" at the supply, with distant areas receiving what is left.

Under rationing, it was possible to obtain a more equitable distribution of supplies not only among individual consumers but among various sections of the country.

The termination of meat rationing early last winter has permitted civilians to buy so much meat that the government has had difficulty getting supplies to fill overseas promises. Furthermore, this uncontrolled demand siphoned off meat that normally would have gone into storage against the summer season of low production.

The department predicted that per capita supplies of fish, poultry, eggs, butter, fluid milk and cream, cheese, evaporated milk, sugar and fresh

FLOOD CONTROL WILL BE URGED

Rep. M'Kenzie Flies To Capital For Hearings; Sherrouse Ill

Rep. C. E. McKenzie left Saturday at 4 p. m., by Delta Airlines for Washington, D. C., to be present for the important flood control hearings scheduled there on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

He explains that Monroe is intimately associated with this project which concerns the Lafourche area at the doors of Monroe. Already there is an appropriation of more than five millions made by congress for flood control for the Boeuf, Tensas and Bayou Macon water areas, which work is to be started soon. Rep. McKenzie, however, seeks to have the project extended so as to give immediate aid to the Monroe section of the state.

During the four war years, there was no flood control work in progress with the exception of immediate emergencies that might arise and in which prompt work was required. Now with the war ended, the representative feels that extended and prompt action should be had. He states that the Louisiana state engineer and a party of 18 or more from Louisiana and Mississippi are to be present in Washington this week for the hearings to be held.

Shortly before he left Monroe, the congressman had a wire from his daughter, Jane, whose marriage took place here Thursday, to the effect that her husband, Johnny Sherrouse, Jr., was seized with appendicitis Saturday and is in a Houston hospital. His parents have flown there to be with him and his condition is said not to be critical.

CARSON AND PROXY BRIDE RE-MARRIED

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Donald Carson, Oak Ridge, Tenn., accountant and his proxy bride, the former Miss Lily Mendoza of Guatemala City, were re-married here today to meet immigration requirements.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carl S. Schutten, pastor of St. Patrick's Church and ended, Carson said, red tape and consular problems encountered since the couple decided to be married last February.

A proxy ceremony was held on March 9 while the bride was in Guatemala City and the bridegroom was busy at his job in Tennessee.

Upon arrival of the bride here Wednesday night with her mother they were advised that the immigration laws did not recognize proxy marriages.

Carson arrived last night on the first train for New Orleans to claim his pretty brunette bride and arranged for the religious ceremony the first thing today.

The newly weds planned to leave immediately for Oak Ridge so Carson can get back to his job.

"I'll get a two-week vacation in a couple of months," he said, "and then we'll take our belated honeymoon."

The romance started while the tall Tennesseean was stationed with the U. S. army air corps in Guatemala.

He received his discharge with staff sergeant rating in Atlanta last October 29. Carson proposed later by mail and the young lady accepted.

CONGRESSIONAL UPRISING AGAINST OPA MOUNTS HIGH

By Francis M. Lemay

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The congressional uprising against OPA became so severe today that one of Hartley (R-N.J.), urged "moderation lest price control be destroyed."

Meanwhile, a committee of 63 house members, organized "to fight inflation," issued a statement calling on the people to let their representatives in congress know how they feel about price control.

Hartley a month ago announced the formation of a coalition of Republicans and Democrats to trim down OPA's powers. But today he told newsmen:

"The revolt has become so overwhelming I've got to warn that we must not wreck price control. I'm going to urge moderation lest price control be destroyed. We need OPA for the time being. Its continuation is essential. We should correct its abuses, not destroy it."

Legislation to continue OPA for one year beyond June 30 comes to the house floor for debate Monday.

Paul Porter, OPA administrator, told Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) in a letter that amendments already put into the legislation by the house banking committee, if approved by the house and senate, would cost American consumers $2,000,000,000 in the next year, including a 10 percent increase in clothing prices and an overall $425,000,000 jump in the retail prices in automobiles.

Notwithstanding, house members have indicated they will submit scores of other amendments, revising and curbing OPA controls.

The House Agriculture committee by unanimous vote has instructed its chairman, Rep. Flannagan (D-Va.) to offer an amendment stopping the subsidy payments used to hold down con-

Also Puts Ban On Teen-Age Draft

Delays Final Action On Measure As Whole Until Monday; Administration Leaders Pin Hopes For Changes On Senate

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The House wrote a five-month induction holiday and an end to the drafting of teen-agers into a selective service extension bill today but delayed final action on the measure as a whole until Monday.

A decisive vote that would have sent the legislation to the Senate was blocked when Rep. Cox (D., Ga.) demanded a reading of the formally engrossed bill with all amendments. Speaker Rayburn told the House such a copy could not be ready before Monday.

So the House quit and put off the vote until then.

There is nothing left to do now except pass on a motion to recommit, which is conceded practically no chance, and take final action. There will be no roll call on the amendments.

The Senate still has a say coming, however, in a committee-approved bill lacking the restrictions the House voted today. The House had been all set to pass the bill today. It had decided by a three-vote margin to prohibit any inductions between May 15 and October 15 of this year, although extending the draft law itself until February 15, 1947, or nine months from its present expiration date.

There was no record vote on the "holiday" proposal, which went into the measure by a teller count of 156 to 153 after charges it was inspired by "politics." The members turned down a request for a roll call vote on which the members would be recorded individually. An earlier tentative vote on the "holiday" was 149 to 127.

There was no record vote, either, on the amendment raising the present minimum draft age from 18 to 20. It went into the measure by a non-recorded vote of 195 to 96, the same as the earlier tentative ballot.

The House left unchanged its committee's recommendations for a maximum service liability of 18 months for all drafted men; for an outright ban against the induction of fathers; for authority for local draft boards to defer farm workers, and for these ceilings on the July 1, 1947, strength of the armed forces: Army 1,070,000 officers and men; navy 558,000; marine corps 108,000.

Turned down were proposals to raise the pay of all service personnel; to give enlisted men the same terminal pay now granted to officers; to force the immediate discharge of all fathers now in service, and to count service in the merchant marine as part of the 18 months maximum required of inducted men.

The administration fought against the teen-age ban and the draft "holiday" amendments, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts accusing the House of resorting to "legislative mockery" and several members accusing their colleagues of being prompted by "politics" in voting for the "holiday."

Chairman Vinson, Democrat, Georgia, of the naval committee offered the "holiday" amendment, while the ban on teen-age inductions was proposed by Chairman May, Democrat, Kentucky, of the military committee.

Vinson, May and others who supported the amendments based their argument on the contention an all-out recruitment drive would produce the necessary manpower for the armed services. Action on pay increases to spur enlistment is expected in separate legislation.

Opponents of both amendments claimed there are insufficient men in the age group from 20 through 29—which the legislation affects—to meet expected needs of the armed services.

Most of the eligibles in that group,

WANTS TO DOUBLE STATE SALES TAX

Coxe Says Schools Need Additional $26,000,000 Per Biennium

BATON ROUGE, La., April 13.—(AP)—State Education Supt. John E. Coxe said today that "school forces of Louisiana" will ask the 1946 legislature to double the state one-cent sales tax to provide at least an additional $26,000,000 per biennium for elementary and high schools.

Coxe said in a "statement to the people" that he believed the legislature would take favorable action on the request, and that of the $12,000,000 increase asked for the first year and $14,000,000 the second, 70 per cent would go to increase teachers' salaries, 30 per cent to parish school boards for buildings and current operating expenses.

(The existing sales tax is presently bringing in about $1,000,000 a month).

The superintendent described the requests as a minimum needed, and said "we believe that you are willing to pay the price required to give your children the best possible education."

In behalf of the request, Coxe reported that Louisiana pays teachers approximately $328 a year less than the national average, that the state needs 2,100 additional white teachers and 4,400 additional Negro teachers "to educate properly all our children," that 5,000 additional classrooms are needed, and that there is no remedy in sight for a critical teacher shortage.

"We have in Louisiana," he said, "approximately 29,000 children attending school in buildings not owned by school boards and not constructed as school houses * * * makeshift structure, old churches and lodges * * * and many of our parishes have exhausted the constitutional limit of their ability to float additional bonds for building purposes."

In recent years, Coxe said, Louisiana has lost "thousands" of its qualified teachers, and has been compelled to issue temporary certificates to persons who could not meet regular requirements.

In the face of these losses," he said, "nine of our white colleges report only 107 prospective elementary teachers graduating in 1945, and during the current session only 79 new teachers for those grades will be graduated from our colleges," * * * a supply "only slightly more than to meet the needs of one of our larger parishes."

The state can meet the need for qualified teachers, he said, only by raising salaries to the point where the teaching profession can compete with business and industry for services of the brightest and most promising young people.

"Even the state of Louisiana," he

2 KILLED, 7 HURT AS PLANE CRASHES

CHICAGO, April 13.—(AP)—An army air corps lieutenant and his civilian brother-in-law were killed today and seven persons were injured when an army F-6 photographic plane crashed and exploded between a two-story apartment building and a frame house on the northwest side.

The army Sixth service command said the pilot, First Lt. Arthur V. Robitschek, Jr., 22, of Chicago, had registered his passenger as an army captain, and that army officials had no other information concerning the companion.

The coroner's office identified the passenger as Albert Schultz, 26, also of Chicago, whose wife, Virginia, is Robitschek's sister.

Two persons, injured seriously, were residents of the apartment building, set afire by flaming gasoline from the fallen plane.

Minor injuries were suffered by five others, including two firemen.

Army public relations said the home base of the plane was Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas. They said the pilot had been on a cross country flight, but was on a training flight at the time of the crash.

FOOD INADEQUATE IN U. S. GERMAN ZONE

BERLIN, April 13.—(AP)—U. S. Military government officials told former President Herbert Hoover today that there was not enough food in the American Zone of Germany "procurable from German sources to sustain life even at starvation levels."

Summarizing their discussions on the food situation in Germany with Hoover, Gen Joseph T. McNarney and Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay and their food experts said they believed "food must be imported to supplement what the Germans produce."

"Indigenous supplies on hand in April in the U. S. Zone, plus imports actually on hand and known to be on the water, will support a daily ration for the normal consumer of approximately only 915 calories from April 1 to Sept. 30. when supplies from the next harvest should be available," the Generals said in a statement.

Pointing out that food was essential for the economic recovery of Germany and for the whole of Europe, the Generals' statement declared that "economic recovery is almost at a standstill."

"Political stability cannot develop under conditions which create political apathy. Political apathy cannot be overcome in a population which must devote its full effort to the daily search for food. Political stability in Germany is closely related to political stability in Europe."

SEEKS TO FIND SEPARATED KIN

Samuel Clements And Son, Robert, Sought By Former's Daughter

The tragic death in childbirth of a young Monroe mother and the consequent separation of the husband and his two children, back two decades ago, comprised the broken threads of a human interest story that came to light last week and is now partially unravelled.

Back in the days when Eckhardt and Lennon operated a stave mill (now the Louisville Cooperage Company), Samuel S. Clements was woods foreman. He had a young daughter, Estelle, and in course of time, Clements' wife gave birth to a son, Robert, but the mother sacrificed her life in bringing into the world her only son.

Clements was forced to part with his two children, Estelle being sent to live with relatives in Detroit, Mich., and Robert was taken and presumably adopted by an aunt in Monroe, whose name is not known.

All this happened back in 1926. Through the years, Estelle has had a yearning to know of the whereabouts of her father and brother, and to further the search she recently went to Shreveport and secured employment so that she might at odd times prosecute the investigation. A lead was discovered by her in Shreveport when G. L. Prigmore, aged news vendor, told her he knew her father and that he is now living in Catahoula parish. He could not tell as to the location of the brother, Robert.

A search of the city directory of Monroe and West Monroe failed to show any person listed by the name of Robert Clements.

Miss Clements will in all probability spend some time in Monroe and in Catahoula parish in an endeavor to locate her two lost relatives.

Expanded Monroe Doctrine

What President Truman enunciated at Chicago is a Monroe Doctrine for the world. Comments on the president's speech have missed this point, or have failed to stress it.

In a warning to aggressive Europe in 1820 President Monroe said the United States would consider any attempt on the part of the Old World to extend its system to any portion of the Western Hemisphere as dangerous to the peace and safety of this nation and as an unfriendly act. President Truman said in Chicago that it is the role of the United States to prevent unjust aggression anywhere in the world.

That is a big order and the president proposes to implement it by universal military training to assure a continuously strong army. The United States already has the most powerful navy by long odds and the necessary industrial plants and the scientific research to keep an air force at the forefront of all nations.

Those who have been puzzled by the nation's foreign policy, or who have alleged that it has none, here have their answer. It is a 100 per cent reversal of the isolationism following World War I—a proposed projecting of American influence and power into every corner of the world.

Granted that America would be a benevolent guardian of every land, the president has outlined a policy of world fraternalism that would be extremely costly and that would banish any hope of a balanced budget without perpetually heavy taxation. The alternative, of course, would be the forcing of "protected" nations into this nation's economic system to create a vast and profitable economic empire.

A RETURN TO FREE MARKETS

The hundreds of manufactured items which the OPA has just released from price control do not bulk very large in the total national economy, but there are enough of them and they cover a wide enough field to provide an excellent test of this new government policy, if that is what it is.

If it now turns out, as most supporters of private enterprise earnestly believe, that competition will keep prices of these goods from rising very much and may in time even lower them, then the nation will have all the proof it needs of the wisdom of scrapping other OPA regulations as rapidly as possible.

That production of all the commodities in question will be sharply increased seems to be certain. That fact in itself will be a gain for a people short of many of the necessities of modern living. It should also help eventually to decrease costs and to keep prices on an even keel.

Most manufacturers, confronted with the problem of doing business at small profit or no profit at all, have been running their plants on a part-time basis. As a result, operation has been far more expensive than it ought to be. With free markets restored, traditional American efficiency should come to the front again.

In any event, the results of this experiment will be watched with uncommon interest. If it is successful, the OPA will be forced by public opinion to relinquish more and more of its controls and a decided impetus will be given to the movement in Congress to take from the agency all authority except that which relates to rents and agricultural or mining products.

WITH NO OPA LID

When the original manuscript of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" was knocked down the other day for $50,000 at public auction in New York, it had experienced vicissitudes comparable to some of those of its 10-year-old heroine.

The manuscript contains the highly imaginative drawings by the author, which formed the basis for the illustrations by Sir John Tenniel in the published book of 1865. By odd circumstance the manuscript came back into the hands of Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, the famous collector, who paid more than $75,000 for it 18 years ago in London, and later was reported to have sold it for approximately twice that amount to Eldridge R. Johnson, founder of the Victor Talking Machine Company. It was at part of the sale of the notable Johnson collection that "Alice" appeared again to be snapped up in two minutes of bidding, and that will by no means mark the end of its adventures.

The cheaper price "Alice" has just brought is attributed by some to the fact the nation is not in the midst of a bull market similar to that of 1928. And yet, when collectors' items are involved, there is no economic rule of thumb. The prices obtained at the auction of the famous stamp collection of the late President Roosevelt were inflated because of their former ownership. Including the album of Chinese stamps presented in 1941 by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, which brought $4,700, it was felt that the collection's total value was at most approximately $100,000. Stamp collectors had other ideas, and when the sale was concluded more than $200,000 was realized.

Prices at collectors' sales seem not to concern integral worth, if it can be determined. Rather it is a question of who once owned what, who wants it and how badly.

BIG JOB FOR THE LITTLE FLOWER

As director-general of UNRRA, Fiorello H. LaGuardia will tackle a job which makes a full call upon his exuberant energy. It may also give full sway to those characteristics of Don Quixote which have been evident in the public life of this doughty, free-swinging fighter for the right.

New York's former mayor has tilted with a good many windmills in his time. He has mistaken sheep for dragons. But he has also shown much of the good Don's chivalry, high-mindedness, and hot-eyed hatred of evil. With them has been much of the earthy realism, and, perhaps, physical appearance of Quixote's Sancho Panza.

Now Mr. LaGuardia has a real and terrifying dragon to contend with. If he will attack it with the strength and zeal with which he pursued bookmakers, petty thugs, poker-playing Bronx housewives, heavy-thumbed poultry dealers, and most of New York's newspapers, then even the mighty specter of world famine may be forced to retreat.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of the week: 20th Century-Fox's "The Dark Corner" (Lucille Ball-Clifton Webb-Mark Stevens-William Bendix). Murder melodrama, as thrill-filled as a roller-coaster ride . . . GOOD: Republic's "Sheriff of Redwood Valley" (Wild Bill Elliott-Bob Steele). Satisfactory proof that Westerns can be top-notch entertainment when given a top-notch story . . . DISAPPOINTING: Warner Brothers' "Devotion" (Ida Lupino-Paul Henreid-Olivia de Havilland). Fine acting and lavish sets fail to offset a boresome plot . . . . FAIR: PRC's "The Devil Bat's Daughter" (Rosemary La Planche-John James). Frankly "Class B" but you'll enjoy meeting her . . . Columbia's "The Crime Doctor's Warning" (Warner Baxter-John Litel). On a par with the series' standard . . . . BEST PERFORMANCE: Clifton Webb in "The Dark Corner." One of Broadway's best scores another screen triumph.

The decision of a Los Angeles court, in annulling Lois Andrews' marriage to David Street was in strict accordance with the law, since Street's divorce from a former wife was not final at the time he alter-trekked with Miss Andrews. But a mere man who lacks "the legal mind" may be excused for indulging himself in a wondering muse. Surely Lois must have been aware of the situation when she entered into the marriage contract. Sometimes it seems to me that we need a revision of the existing code.

Jesse L. Lasky, in digging out facts about Enrico Caruso, whose life story he intends to film, has clearly established one point—Caruso was the best paid singing star of his day. During the seventeen years of his peak success, he grossed more than $1,500,000 for operatic engagements, concerts and recording royalties. It's an impressive sum until you stop to think that Bing Crosby, who is no Caruso, can take in that much in two years!

During the past few years, big star after big star has demanded a share in the profits of his pictures and a commanding voice in their production. A surprising percentage of the demands have been granted. Top-flight writers are now following suit, many of them refusing to sell their stories at any price unless they are given percentage deals and the right to select directors, casts and shooting scrips. If the trend continues (and it will) just what, I wonder, is going to be left for the producer?

Hollywood is inured to divorces after only a few days or a few weeks of marriage, but here's a topper. Last week Bob Graham, Paramount's new crooner, flew to Las Vegas to be best man at a wedding—and his plane was two hours late. While the couple-to-be-married waited for him, they began to quarrel. By the time he arrived, they had called off the marriage and were no longer on speaking terms.

BY HENRY McLEMORE

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—If I did not have a good job that was earning me a cool six or seven million a year, I would become a music teacher.

There must be a lot of money in it. I don't mean the old-fashioned type of music teacher, who had a cozy little home on Elm Street, and taught Johnny and Sister Mary and Junior the piano and violin.

If you are past 35, you must remember that type of music teacher. Her name was Miss Evelyn or Miss Sarah or Miss Isasgoodasamile, and as soon as you were old enough to have sufficent calcium in your bones to trot you to her home, your parents started you off on music lessons.

No, that's not the type of music teacher I mean at all, I would become a teacher of the juke box. From nine until twelve, and from two until six, I would instruct modern youth in the operation of the juke box. I would teach them the approach to the juke box, the proper insertion of coins, and, most important of all, how to get the song you want.

Only last night I was out with the younger set. As a chaperone, of course. And I tried to play a juke box. It was a gorgeous affair. All red lights, and green lights, and plastic, and stainless steel, and chromium, and what have you. I felt humble approaching it. Standing there in the corner, it made the Taj Mahal seem shabby, and for sheer beauty, it could hold its own with the Grand Canyon by candlelight. As one of the other chaperones, a chap named Larry Johnson, said, "All that juke box needs to make it complete is a prayer dug."

"What do you want me to play, kids?" I called to the merry set of youngsters, who were doing a stately, sedate mess of jive on the dance floor.

"Play us 'Some Sunday Morning, Uncle Henry," they cried.

It was all I could do to keep from swatting them. If there is anything that a man just this side of 40 hates to be called is "Uncle." When a man reaches that age he likes to dream of himself being just as young, gay, and buoyant as the youngest freshman. He knows his hair is mighty thin, and that he creaks slightly when he walks, and has to play doubles at tennis, but confound it, he doesn't like to be reminded of it.

So I went to the juke box, nickel in hand. I studied the listings of the various songs. I studied them very carefully, despite the blinding lights of the juke, and the fountain which sprayed from its top knot. I read very clearly that "Some Sunday Morning" was No. 4. I inserted the nickel and pushed a button. There was a whirring noise.

You know what I got? A thing called "Bumble Boogie." Not to be daunted, I went back to the juke when "Bumble Boogie" had run its harmonious course, and tried again for "Some Sunday Morning." I didn't get it. This time—and my nickels were running out—I got a musical gem called "Symphony."

I had used up almost a dollar's worth of nickels and still couldn't get "Some Sunday Morning." At about 85 cents' worth I called the proprietor. Mr. Arthur Bosworth.

"Mr. Bosworth," I said, "would you be so kind as to call your electrical engineer and see if he can get me 'Some Sunday Morning' on this juke box?"

With the Old World courtesy for which he is celebrated, Mr. Bosworth said he would

He called in a tall, handsome chap, carrying a diploma from M. I. T.

"Is this man capable of operating a juke box?" I asked.

"I was in charge of a naval vessel during the war," the M. I. T. graduate said.

I gave him two nickels. He went to work with the touch of a skilled operator. The first tune he got was "Prisoner of Love." The radar failed, he explained. The second tune he got was "Bumble Boogie." He got no more nickels.

Let us have teachers for the juke box.

The youngsters who are going to run this country in a few years (and who will hate to be called "Uncle") are getting their musical education through the juke box.

Let us not let them down.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday School Lesson For April 21
Scripture: Luke 24:13-35
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Of all the Resurrection stories, the most amazing, and yet the most convincing, seems to me to be that which relates the meeting of the two unknown disciples with an unknown Stranger.

The disciples, you will remember, were journeying from Jerusalem to Emmaus after the crucifixion of Jesus. At the end of their journey, the unknown Stranger was revealed as the Risen Lord.

It is an astonishing story, miraculous in the highest degree. It is amazing in the failure of the disciples to recognize the Companion who joined them; in the fact that He partook of the meal with them, proving His presence to be something more than a specter of their imagination; in their immediate and clear recognition of Him as He brake bread, blessed it, and gave it to them; and in His vanishing at that very moment of recognition. Could there be a stranger story?

Yet to me it is just as incredibly convincing. It puts the evidence of Christ's Resurrection on the plane of something higher than legends, traditions, or wonder tales.

I note first the plain matter-of-fact way in which it is told. There is no suggestion of embellishment of the story's spiritual fact and significance. It is related with a restraint and with a spiritual emphasis that is the best evidence of its integrity and authenticity.

Such a story would have been beyond human invention. We may be sure that Luke is telling what actually happened.

One of the two travelers was Cleophas, unknown except for this reference, and the other is not identified. It is possible, indeed probable, that the latter was of the company of disciples at the last supper in the upper room, for he quickly recognized the Companion when he brake and blessed the bread as He had at the last supper.

It is in the reference to the burning hearts that the story is most appealing. "Did not our hearts burn within us, while He talked with us by the way, and while He opened to us the scriptures?"

We of today need no miraculous events or appearances to open the scriptures for us. The meaning of the Christ, His purpose in coming to the world, the power of His salvation, and the fact of His spiritual presence are all made plain to people living now.

If we do not apprehend them it is because we are dull and lack spiritual insight, not because no provision has been made for our enlightenment. What more do we need than this very story of the disciples on the way to Emmaus, and of what they discovered as they met their Risen Lord?

Do our hearts burn within us as we read these things? Does Easter mean for us a joyous meeting with the Christ, and a gladness in the scriptures which have been opened?

A mere formal belief that Jesus was resurrected from the dead is of little worth, unless He be risen indeed in our hearts, and unless our hearts, too, burn within us as He talks with us by the way.

For, if we will but realize it, the Christ is the Companion of the road, no matter where we travel. And He is present in every place where we break bread.

News BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 13.—I must make a correction. Some weeks back I mentioned incidentally in a column that the back-fire man of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, Mr. Ickes, had been signed as a columnist by a New York newspaper, and would never be published in any other. An arbitrary journal called "The New York Evening Post" signed Ickes up. I had not heard of the Post since it "exposed" a senator for attending—it said—not only a house of ill repute, but a house of homosexual repute.

I was wrong about this paper not selling other newspapers. Since then the Ickes promotional outfit has told Editor and Publisher, which is my Bible on newspaperdom, that about 25 to 40 newspapers have subscribed to Ickes' column. Some conservative and Republican columnists claims of how many newspapers they have are usually padded, but the Ickes announcement named specifically the ones which bought his column.

One of my own editors wrote me telling me I had been wrong and saying he himself had subscribed to the Ickes column. I could not believe it. Everyone knows the Ickes career was devoted solely to the least reputable aspects of politics and primarily to destroying the newspapers and the newspaper business. That was his job for Mr. Roosevelt. It was his political assignment. His crowd must do this in order to destroy popular judgment. They had a story, Messrs. Ickes and Roosevelt, a story that all publishers were crooks and only they told the truth. If the truth were ever liberated on those two individuals, I mean Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Ickes, the most sensational journal in the world could not contain the necessary headlines.

Ickes even bothered himself in the beginning of his campaign to attempt to destroy me. I thought I was a minor individual, but they had to get me out of the way or they could not get away with their stuff. They had to kill mine in order to maintain theirs. I stand for truth. Ickes had to abolish truth in order to attain his ends and so he centered his attack on me, somehow acquiring my list of clients, and he wrote everyone of my editors personally urging them to discontinue my column. Now they take his stuff—and pay for it!

I plead, for my mistake, utter disbelief that the American Press, or any oppressed or misled portion of it, could possibly swing to the state of despondency in which they would welcome the outpourings of a defeated politician called "Honest Harold" who does not know the truth that warms the heart because he is an intense politician. He got millions and is a rich man today, from other devices which have no connection with journalism or his own ability. He is intellectually a politician, as everyone knows and this means he never had an intellectually honest thought. He could not have one, in view of his own obvious purpose and recognized being.

But he got 40 papers? How? How can this thing, foreign to all intelligent interpretations of journalism, acquire a welcome place in it?

I do not read his column and cannot be bothered with what I know to be obvious attempts to absorb and control american public opinion against its own best interests. But I read an editorial in a Scripps-Howard paper saying Ickes wants to "smash" John L. Lewis, otherwise I would not mention him. A self-promotion outfit he has hired has written me asking me to mention him and thereby displayed the most bald, pitiful and stupid attempt I ever saw to get mentioned in my 300 newspapers for a man who has derived, with excellent management and his millions—only 25 to 40 thus far. Ordinarily it would be stupid of me to mention the subject. But this is really a powerful movement to capture and deceive the free minds of the American people. And I will prove its insidiousness. See my column tomorrow.

BIBLE THOUGHTS

And said, If thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the Lord thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee.—Exodus 15:26.

Some maladies are rich and precious and only to be acquired by the right of inheritance or purchased with gold. —Hawthorne.

New York Day By Day

By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL
Title Reg. U. S. Patent Office

NEW YORK—The New York Central has come in for a lot of well-deserved criticism in this column. I won't go into the painful matter now. The railroad has courteous employes, also. I know several of them.

But what I wish to observe is that the New York Central knows how to dramatize and promote its most famous train, the Twentieth Century.

They really roll out the red carpet for the passengers who take that train at Grand Central. The carpet now being used, made since so-called peace came, is 260 feet long and six feet wide. It extends from the train gate, down the long ramp, to the entrance to the two rear cars. I guess you're supposed to walk on the concrete, like the rest of mankind, if you happen to draw a seat or bed in a forward car.

The carpet is rolled out for every departure of the Century. It weighs half a ton, and for easy and quick handling is cut into six parts, interlocking.

One more good word for the Central, and I'll be back at my old job of criticizing it for its insolence to passengers on commuter trains.

Grand Central Terminal is not only the best-looking railway station in the world, but the cleanest. If it had escalators, as has Pennsylvania Station, it would be tops in every way.

There must be a lot of button collectors. I hear from them often.

Maude Simmons, San Diego, writes, asking for a button that has been worn by my wife. While the lady of the house was at the movies, I swiped a rather old-fashioned black button off an old coat she isn't wearing any more, and sent it to the California lady with compliments.

But Velma Walton, of Amo, Ind., is indignant with me because we get all the black pepper we want at our house, while she can't get any. Well, we have noticed no shortage of black pepper around here, and can we be blamed for using it? We like it.

Mrs. Thomas Murray, of Hartford, writes in praise of the column, and asks for one of the reproductions of the Spanish piece of eight. I rug up what I believe to be the very last one for her. She makes scrapbooks for crippled children, and wants to put the coin in one of the books. I am glad I had one left.

I also enclosed several of Monty Amory's pirate drawings (originals), for the scrapbooks. I have been sending these to the customers who asked for pieces of eight and were disappointed. After all, I think an original of Amory's, even though small, is a better item for a pirate fan than a counterfeit piece of eight. If Mrs. Murray (or any other reader) wants more of them, especially for crippled children, they are theirs, while they last. Stamped envelope, please.

I learn much about the sponge mushroom (moral) from a lady in Wabash, Ind., who asks that her name be not mentioned. I had also a box of dried morels from somewhere, perhaps Indiana. They made a wonderful dinner. This lady fries her morels in vegetable fat and butter, after splitting them, adding salt, beaten eggs, and cracker crumbs.

Family affairs interest Mary Lanier, of Roanoke, Va., and it's the family stuff she likes in this column. Most of that is on Mondays, usually, so you can skip the other days if you prefer to do so, Mrs. L. . . . Mrs. A. C. Thompson, of Greenville, O., asks me to urge you to stay with your dog until he dies, when you take him to a vet to be put out. I wholly agree. Many reports of abuses have come to me from dog lovers.

REHEARSALS STAGED FOR NEVILLE PLAY

Rehearsals are well underway for the Neville senior play "Stage Door" being directed by Malcolm Steen.

"Stage Door," written by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, was first produced on Broadway where it enjoyed a long and successful run. Later it was made into a motion pitcure starring Ginger Rogers, Andria Leeds and Katherine Hepburn. These three parts are played respectively by Ann Crandall, Pat Harbuck and Patsy Sager.

Action for the play takes place in a boarding house for young actresses in New York. The plot revolves around the eagerness of these young women to become great stage stars. Comedy reigns supreme in "Stage Door," but there is also a touch of drama and tragedy.

The complete cast includes: Dorothy Younse, Margaret Watson, Evelyn Latham, Susanne Phebus, Bonnye Buckner, Ruth Horton, Betty Jo Scoggins, Helen Todd, Bobby Sedberry, Juanita Wilhite, Anne Martin, Lida Thompson, Betty Richardson, Olga Tefas, Kiki Gatzoulas, Ann Sartain, Hugh Smith, Peyton Parker, Ledolph Baer, J. W. Webster, Bobby Holmes, Gladden Walters, Ralph Gibson, Jerry Hightower, Clayton Bennet and George McGee.

Presentation of "Stage Door" will be at Neville High on May 9.

GRADING MACHINE OPERATOR INJURED

SHREVEPORT, LA., April 13.—(AP)—W. C. Williams, grading machine operator for the Campbell Construction Co., was seriously injured about 9 o'clock this morning when a Kansas City Southern passenger train was in collision with his machine here.

Williams was knocked from the machine by the impact and rendered unconscious from a head injury. He also was injured about the left knee.

He was operating the machine in grading Corbett street up to the railroad tracks. He was watching the grading line, it was said, and did not see the approaching train.

The front of the grader was struck by the locomotive, throwing it around at a sharp angle and knocking Williams from his seat. One wheel of the grader was knocked off.

Of the 650,000 miles of surfaced roads and streets in the United States 500,000 miles are covered with asphalt.

SONGS, DANCES, COMEDY MIXED

Monroe Junior Charity League 'Follies' Have Fun Aplenty

Sugar and spice and everything nice. Everyone knows that those are the ingredients little girls are made of, but not everyone knows the ingredients which go to make up a musical revue such as the "Follies" to be presented by the Junior Charity League on April 26. Those ingredients are song, dance and comedy, and are well represented in the "Follies," twenty-eight elaborate scenes.

Song is represented, for instance, by Jane Wallace, who gives some musical advice to the lovelorn in a number called, "Love Isn't Born, It's Made." An elaborate costume background is supplied by a group of showgirls, including Joy McCue, Craig Newman, Merle Adams, Dot Ineichen, Helen Wallace, June Godfrey, Wanda Hinkle, Frances Albright and Dot Amman.

Dance is plentiful in the revue and well exemplified by the "Hubba Hubba" routine in which June Hund executes some tricky adagio stunts, assisted by James McBeth, Sidney Wall and the men's chorus which includes Hollis Venable, Richard Sackett, Jake Ursery, Phillip Emanato, Clifton Furlow, Major Fred Peck, Gene Worthen, L. C. Grimsley, Dick McAuliff, Donald Barnes and Charles Nimms.

Comedy comes into its own in the seven blackout sketches of the show. One of the most hilarious is a burlesque of an old melodrama called "Virtues Reward," or "Did She Fall or Was She Pushed." Martha Prentice plays the poor old mother, Jeannine Oakley the beleaguered heroine, Gene Worthen is the villainous Squire hardacres and James McBeth the upstanding hero, arriving just in time to save the heroine from the well-known fate worse than death.

The "Follies" will be presented for one performance only at the Neville High School auditorium for the benefit of the Junior Charity League, receiving home for temporarily homeless children.

ASTHMA SPASMS

Liberal Supply Free

The development by French Chemists of a palliative formula for easing the difficulty in coughing and breathing caused by spasms of Bronchial Asthma brought such striking results that its fame quickly spread over Europe. Now introduced in the United States as Bel-Din. This preparation contains the same active ingredients and aids as a palliative to ease gasping, choking and the feeling of suffocation that oftentimes accompanies Bronchial Asthma. Caution: use only as directed. The Montrose Sales Co., Inc. Dept. N-339, Montrose, Calif. is anxious that all sufferers from Bronchial Asthma Spasms try this preparation. They will send a liberal supply Free to anyone who writes them. If you wish, you may send 10c to cover mailing and handling. Send for it today.—Adv.

FILMS WILL SHOW IWO JIMA BATTLES

After the 72 murderous hours that it took the marines to subdue the stubborn Japs on Tarawa, Maj. Gen. Julian Smith, who commanded the Leathernecks in the assault on the island, remarked:

"I shall never again meet a marine without a feeling of reverence."

It was thought after that battle that the marines had taken as much punishment as human beings could endure.

Then came Peleliu, where enemy resistance was even more intense. And later came Iwo Jima, worst of them all.

Residents of Monroe and vicinity will have an opportunity to see what these battles were like when films of the three campaigns—and of the liberation of Guam, too—are shown free of charge Monday night, April 22, at Neville High School auditorium.

Screening of the films, which were made available by the Monroe recruiting office of the marine corps, is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. They are to be shown under the auspices of the Ouachita Parish Veterans Council.

Every phase of combat is shown in the films—planes bombing and strafing, ships shelling from the sea, landing boats and amphibious trucks and tractors going in with the initial assault waves, artillery and tanks in operation, supplies being moved ashore, caves being flamed and blasted.

The pictures have never been shown here publicly before. They were taken by marine corps combat photographers, many of whom were either killed or wounded in action.

HIGHWAY 48 HEARING IN MONROE THURSDAY

The immediate hard-surfacing of the thirty-five miles of state highway 48 between Winnsboro and St. Joseph will be the subject of discussion at a highway meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce office next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Guy Campbell, chairman of the Chamber highway committee. Originally planned to be held in St. Joseph, this meeting will be attended by J. B. Seaman, Sheriff Elliott Coleman, the police jury president of Tensas parish and others from St. Joseph and from Winnsboro, including Joe Dante, Allen Price, J. W. McLemore and Mayor Dallas Mays.

Purpose of the meeting will be to formulate a plan to secure the immediate hard surfacing of the highway, which traverses an agriculture producing area and which is becoming increasingly important because of oil development in the area.

"We are very happy to co-operate with civic leaders and friends in St. Joseph and Winnsboro in bringing about the improvement of this highway, which is long overdue," said Mr. Campbell. "While this road really belongs to St. Joseph and Winnsboro in that it connects these two important cities, it is of equal importance to Monroe in our opinion."

WELFARE MEET CLOSES

ALEXANDRIA, LA., April 13.—(AP)—Forty Parish Directors of the State Welfare Department closed a three-day meeting here yesterday with classes in agency policies and staff meetings. Thomasine Hendricks, Washington, was the instructor.

PYTHIAN WOMEN IN NEW TEMPLE

Friendship No. 3, Is Starting Off With 84 Charter Members

A second Pythian Sisters Temple was organized here recently and will be known as Friendship Temple No. 3. Eighty-four members are enrolled on the charter of the new group.

The institution and installation ceremonies were conducted by Monroe Temple No. 1 under the direction of Mrs. L. J. Hunnicutt and Mrs. Montez Baur.

The final initiatory work on the charter members will take place April 23 when all are urged to attend.

Officers of the new temple are: Lenora Eshelman, past chief; Nellie Fisher, second past chief; Aline Banister, third past chief; Evelyn Chilton, sitting past chief; Hazel Dewees, most excellent chief; Mamie Kent, senior chief; Esther Wallace, junior chief; Edith Williamson, manager; Peggy Simmemaker, mistress of record; Mae Gardner, mistress of finance; Ellen Rothermel, press correspondent; Amy Newburn, inner guard; Ruth Calk, outer guard; Eugenia Oliver, organist; Eunice Lee, Novie May Tarver, Emma Zufall and Eugenia Oliver, trustees.

The third and last rank of Knights of Pythias, that of Knight, will be conferred Thursday night at 8 o'clock and a large class is expected to be put through, states Dr. F. C. Shelton, chancellor commander. Also he urges all returned members of the lodge to come back to the meetings. Their dues will not be payable until January, 1947. More than 100 Pythian members were participants in World War II. Three members gave their lives and two were badly wounded.

HESTER ADMITS AN OVERCHARGE

Former Sheriff Hester Agrees To Judgments By Court

Judgments in two suits filed by the OPA against former Sheriff J. B. Hester, of Farmerville, Union parish, were filed in federal court in Shreveport Friday.

Agreements were reached by Hester and the OPA in both suits, with the agency accepting the amount overcharged on seven used cars, in lieu of treble damages.

In one judgment the OPA was awarded $1,068.09, the amount overcharged by Hester on the sale of six used cars to residents of Union and adjacent parishes. In the second suit Hester was fined $90, the amount he overcharged in a used car sale.

The agreements in both cases were reached when Hester, doing business as Hester's Used Car Lot, Second and Washington Streets, Monroe, admitted the charges, but denied that the violations were willful or intentional.

Hester's resignation as sheriff of Union parish was accepted by Governor Jimmie Davis March 11. His resignation was the outgrowth of an investigation of his office and a no true bill returned by a Union parish grand jury on charges that Hester had spent thousands of dollars illegally.

After examining the books of the sheriff's office, including those he kept as ex-officio tax collector, the grand jury reported that they were not well-kept, but otherwise clear of any illegal entries or withdrawals. They recommended that a more modern method of bookkeeping be employed in keeping the books.

CANCER DRIVE TO START HERE

Organization Perfected To Raise Money To Fight Disease

An organization meeting to perfect plans for the drive to raise funds for the American Cancer Society was held at Hotel Frances, Friday at 4:00 p.m. Named to head the drive was Walter Minniear, president of the Lions Club in West Monroe.

The group that attended the meeting comprised: Representatives of the Ouachita Parish Women's Field Army, Mrs. W. L. Jones, Jr., publicity chairman; Mrs. P. E. Massey, parish commander; Mrs. L. B. Herron, deputy parish commander; and Mrs. A. M. Barrett, executive chairman of the advertising committee.

Also in attendance from civic clubs were: Roy Cole, parish treasurer of the drive; Bill Goldsmith, president Exchange Club; Commander Zeahler, West Monroe Legion post; Frank Surguine, Monroe Legion post; Frank Thompson and N. E. Bell, Monroe Lions Club; Joe Smith, West Monroe Kiwanis Club; D. M. Smith, West Monroe Lions Club, and Percy LeBlanc and Robert Ervin, West Monroe Lions Club.

Plans were formulated for "Tag Day" here for soliciting business firms for contributions, for house-to-house solicitations and for a benefit football game between O. P. H. S. and Bastrop. It was decided to have the drive last one month starting here on Friday, April 19.

Civic clubs will hear speakers on the subject at their dinners and the hearty cooperation of the public is urged.

LOCAL VETERANS RETURN

P.-T. A. WILL MEET

The Central Grammar P.-T. A. will hold a night meeting Wednesday, April 17 at 7:30 o'clock. There will be a cake walk and all members are urged to be present.

GOV. ARNALL TO GIVE ADDRESS

Well Be Town Hall's Speaker On Night Of April 25

Members of Monroe's Town Hall are looking forward with great pleasure to having Governor Ellis Gibbs Arnall, of Georgia, as guest speaker at the opening of the new season in the Ouachita Parish High School auditorium, on the night of April 25, states Mrs. J. B. Kugle, program chairman.

Governor Arnall, by his fearless courage and devotion to the best interests of the people of his state, has made a name for himself which has extended far beyond the confines of Georgia. He is a go-getter, but a go-getter with vision and foresight, and he has been a terror to the old die-hard Georgia politician, the type of which have been running things with a high hand in many parts of the state for generations.

Besides being a good politician, Governor Arnall is a good speaker, and he is able to put across his ideas in a manner which both holds and convinces his audiences. He has no political axes to grind in the course of his lecture on "Whose Country is This, Anyway?"

Though a comparatively young man, Governor Arnall is rich in experience and those who know him and his career feel pretty certain that he has not yet reached the top. He comes to Monroe through the Associated Clubs, the national organization with which the local group is affiliated and which has for its purpose the presentation of leading figures to club audiences from Maine to California.

ANCIENT TREASURE GALLEON LOCATED

MIAMI, Fla., April 13.—(AP)—Discovery of the long lost Spanish trader galleon Santa Rosa, reputedly with $30,000,000 in stolen Aztec gold aboard, was announced tonight by Irwin A. Williamson, famed sea diver.

Williamson said he found the coral-sealed hulk of the Santa Rosa at 1 o'clock this afternoon in 146 feet of water off Key West.

"We removed the three identification marks which we put on the wreck in 1940-41, before the war halted our further attempts to locate the treasure," Williamson said.

"We could not go deep into the hulk to find if the treasure is still there, because the wood planks of the ship, buried in the sea since 1520, crumbled like potash. We were afraid it would fall apart. It took us 23 minutes to worm our way through the small entrance to the coral cave which completely engulfs the wreck."

Williamson was the first man into the wreck and was followed by Carl Parsons, diver, of Birmingham, Ala., and R. J. Lilley, also of Birmingham.

Treading cautiously, they probed into the age-old remains of the Santa Rosa for 43 minutes, and reached the small back section of the galley. Then, as they attempted to push further in, towards the probable location of the rich booty, sections of the walls crumbled and they were afraid, Williamson said, that the coral crust would rip their diving suits.

Napoleon Bonaparte originated the idea of odd and even house numbers for different sides of the street.

Often within 48 hours —sometimes overnight—splendid results are obtained. If the pains do not quickly leave and if you do not feel better, return the empty package and Ru-Ex will cost you nothing to try as it is sold by your druggist under an absolute money-back guarantee. Ru-Ex Compound is for sale and recommended by drug stores everywhere.

HEALTH NURSES DEMONSTRATE

NURSES FROM 14 PARISHES ASSEMBLE FOR MEETING

Dr. M. J. Barker, Health Unit Director, Leads Discussions

The regular staff education meeting representing nurses from 14 parishes, met in the Ouachita Parish Health Unit for a one-day session the past week.

In the morning session, Miss Jean Bonham, D. P. W. child welfare supervisor, led the discussion on child behavior. Miss Bonham was very generous with her information and mentioned that the psychological needs of an infant usually fall within the chronological order of—

(1) Orderly management of the infant's sucking habits.

(2) Prevent forced early toilet training.

(3) The need for a long period of uninterrupted psychological mothering continued until the child has established speech and body equilibrium. Some children can accept the change more easily than others. She mentioned three types of sensory relationships and the outside reactions as the child gets older. An interesting and practical explanation followed each classification.

In the afternoon session, Dr. Myron J. Barker, director, Ouachita Parish Health Unit, led the discussion on the philosophy of psychiatry.

Dr. Barker mentioned that the response of any disease is governed by the individual's own make-up, and that the personality of the individual is concerned with the environment and the individual's response to that environment.

He further clarified the classification usually accepted in psychiatry.

Following these interesting discussions, the public health nurses from the fourteen parishes represented joined with the District Nurses Association in the regular monthly meeting. After the opening preliminaries Miss P. Tarver, public health nurse, from the Ouachita Parish Health Unit, demonstrated the care by the nurse of a communicable disease case in the home. Miss Tarver, Mrs. Hudson and Rogers participated in this demonstration and organization. Miss Tarver serving, as the nurse, presented the care by demonstrating the necessary procedure to the mother or attendant. The basic things considered were:

(1) Finding the source and preventing the spread.

The field investigation starts with the interview of the case. The nurse must know the incubation period in order to concentrate upon the events occurring about the time when the patient contracted the infection. Similarly, she must be familiar with the period of communicability to determine those persons who may have been effectively exposed to this particular case. The successful performance of any laboratory test begins with the selection of the material to be examined. If the collection must be entrusted to a member of the family, very detailed instruction as to the quantity and mode of collection must be given.

The functions of the public health nurse in a communicable disease program is, nursing the sick under the physician's orders, instructing and supervising the family in the care, securing medical attention for those who have not already obtained it, and educating the community in the means of prevention and method of care. This education is carried on, as in other services during all home visits, through distribution of literature, through talks to parent and teacher groups, through home visits, group work and clinics.

The care of a patient suffering from a communicable disease does not differ from the care of any other patient except that isolation and disinfection measures are carried out in addition to the usual procedures, of bed bath, bed-making, special treatment and diet. The care of the patient should, therefore, take precedence over the special communicable disease procedure in the public health nurse's visit. In many cases good nursing care not only makes the patient more comfortable but may also be an important factor in preventing complications.

To approach the problem, not with the thought of achieving absolute asepsis, but rather with the aim of reducing the chances of infection by concentrating on the main sources of spread and attempting to cut these down as much as possible seems the more logical course of action.

Attention should be first directed to the chief mode of spread, then the next most important channel, in each case instructions being given the attendant as to the method of minimizing the spread from the source. In diseases transmitted through discharges from the respiratory tract, the most important means of transmission is direct contact. In giving instructions for isolation procedures one must consider each disease and each home situation separately. The attending physician's orders and wishes must be considered in regard to isolation and care of the case.

The nurse's technique. The nurse must adhere to a strict personal technique because she is traveling from household to household, caring for all types of cases, sick and well, and she must be quite certain that there is no possibility of her spreading the disease in this manner.

(1) The nurse's hat, coat, and bag should not be taken into the patient's room; or, if this is unavoidable, they should be placed as far away from the patient as possible.

(2) Articles which cannot be sterilized or disinfected should not be taken from the nurse's bag into the room. If the family can supply all necessary articles for care, this is preferable.

(3) A gown or apron should be worn when caring for patients suffering from communicable diseases. This may be left in the patient's home between visits. When the case is closed, the gown or apron should be taken back to the office but not in the nurse's bag. If a paper gown is used, it should be burned.

The technique should be modified to fit each home situation as has already been indicated in this article. The following procedures may serve as a general guide:

Procedures for all communicable diseases:

(1) All necessary articles should be assembled before entering the patient's room so that it will not be necessary to leave the room until care has been completed.

(2) The attendant should wear a large apron and use it only while caring for the patient; she should leave it in the sick room at all times.

(3) The attendant should always wash her hands after touching the patient or articles used by the patient and before touching anybody or anything outside the sick room.

Additional procedures for certain diseases:

Diseases in Group 1—(Examples of diseases in Group 1: Measles, whooping cough, pneumonia, poliomyelitis):

(1) Nasal discharges should be destroyed. Clean cloths or paper handkerchiefs should be used and discarded into a paper bag by the bed and burned if possible.

(2) Other instructions should be the same as one would give for ordinary cleanliness in caring for a sick person. Hands should be washed with soap and hot running water, if available, each time after giving care. Dishes and linen should be washed with soap and hot water.

Diseases in Group 2—(Examples of diseases in Group 2: Scarlet fever, diphtheria):

In addition to the above procedures:

(1) All articles used by the patient should be kept in the patient's room or properly treated immediately after removal, that is, burned, boiled, soaked in disinfecting solution, or aired according to the type of article.

(2) Dishes should be scraped and then boiled before washing, or, if the dishes are kept for the patient's exclusive use, they may be washed in his room or bathroom and kept there.

(3) Soiled linen should be soaked in soap and water immediately so that it will not be handled. It should then be washed as soon as possible. Ordinary washing and drying will kill the pathogens for these diseases.

Diseases in Group 3—(Examples of diseases in Group 3: Typhoid, dysentery):

In addition to the above procedures:

(1) Waste food from the patient's meals should be burned, not put in the garbage can.

(2) Before throwing bowel or urine discharges into a toilet or privy, they should be thoroughly mixed with chloride of lime in the bedpan and allowed to stand one hour; the stool should be broken up to enable the lime to get in contact with all parts.

Terminal disinfection for all diseases:

(1) The patient should be bathed and dressed in clean clothes.

(2) The room should be thoroughly cleaned and aired.

(a) Hot water and soap should be used whenever possible.

(b) All other articles, such as mattresses, blankets, toys, books and so forth, should be aired for about six hours. If any of these articles are soiled, they should, of course, be cleaned before being used again.

(c) Books should be kept out of circulation for about two to four weeks and then may be used again.

Those present during the day's activities were: Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Trapp, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Cottingham, Mrs. Waller, Mrs. Applewhite, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Naylor, Mrs. Laurent, Mrs. Gossett, Mrs. Glasgow, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Oliver, Mrs. Renaud, Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. J. N. J. C. STUDENTS IN NEXT PLAY

Will Participate In 'Ah, Wilderness' Of Little Theatre

If you go to the next Monroe Little Theatre production, "Ah, Wilderness," to be presented in Brown hall auditorium April 18, you will see three students from N. J. C.

Malcom Steen, speech major, will play the role of Richard Miller, the seventeen-year-old, about whom the play is centered. Malcolm has appeared in two other Little Theatre plays this season, "The Damask Cheek" and "A Guest in the House." Oswald "Buddy" Henry, who makes his first appearance on the Monroe stage as Tommy Miller, is cast in the role of a good natured lad of eleven. Bonnie Holloway appears as Belle, rather pretty peroxide blonde.

"Ah, Wilderness," by Eugene O'Neil, is the story of a small town family in Connecticut. They are a typical American group of the 1890's, faced with the average problems.

What concerns them most is the youthful Richard, a senior in high school and a Rebel. He is passionately in love with a neighbor's daughter and means to marry her. The scraps of Swineburne verse that he sends to her alarm her father, who forces her to break with Richard. Being young and arrogant, he becomes intoxicated in the presence of a woman of questionable repute. His mother and father are sure the end of the world is coming, but Richard makes up with his girl friend and all ends happily.

PETE MULHEARN'S SONS WIN OFFICES

Two brothers, native sons of Monroe, members of a well known family, won successes at the polls the past week.

John Ernest Mulhearn, son of Pete Mulhearn, funeral director of Monroe, was elected mayor of Rayville by a majority of 151 votes. He defeated the veteran Mayor William T. Jones in the Democratic primary. He is the head of the Rayville branch of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

His brother, Robert P. Mulhearn, young Winnsboro funeral director, also associated with the Mulhearn Funeral Home of Winnsboro, scored the highest number of votes in the entire election, 577, in the race for aldermen in his town.

Another former Monroe man, X. Holt defeated Mayor R. A. Brown for mayor of Wisner. Mr. Holt formerly operated a gas filling station in Monroe.

About two pounds of paint are used on an automobile.

STRESSES VALUE OF FOOT SOLDIER

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The chief of the army ground forces asserted today that machines failed to lessen the importance of the man who fought hand-to-hand in World War II and suggested the same would be true in event of another conflict.

Gen. Jacob L. Devers said in a report published by the war department that "this most technological of all man's struggles put just as much emphasis on the ground soldier as did those wars with the short sword and the musket."

The ground forces absorbed 81 per cent of the American army's battle losses, he noted. They captured nearly all the prisoners and won an overwhelming majority of the medals for heroism.

"The infantry, which comprised only 20.5 per cent of the total strength overseass, took 70 per cent of the total casualties," Devers reported.

"The ground army captured and disarmed 8,150,447 enemy troops.

"Ground soldiers made more than 40 major landings on hostile shores * * *.

"Of the 276 men thus far granted the nation's highest award, the congressional medal of honor, 239 have been members of the army ground forces, almost all of them from the infantry. Nearly half of them died in their heroic service.

"Of the some 3,700 distinguished service crosses granted for World War II, more than 80 per cent went to ground army personnel."

Advising that GI proved a worthy successor to his ancestors-in-arms, Devers predicted that "if this country should ever again be forced into combat, the ground soldier will then, as before, mark our progress along the path of victory."

Devers' report covered operations of the AGF from its formation early in 1942 as successor to General Headquarters, U. S. Army, until V-J Day.

2 CITIES' 150,000 RATS ARE DOOMED

So Say Heads Of Campaign To Exterminate Pests; Public Support Is Urged

A campaign to raise approximately $8,000 to finance rat extermination programs will be conducted in Monroe-West Monroe during the week of May 6-10, it was announced yesterday. This campaign is being jointly sponsored by the Twin City P.-T. A. council of which Mrs. F. C. Bennett is president, the health committee of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by Henry Hartman and the merchants division of which C. Holley is chairman.

Two complete and thorough Twin City-wide rat campigns will be conducted during 1946, one in June and the other in November, under the direct supervision of Dr. Barker and the Ouachita parish health department. In every single one of the 10,600 homes in Monroe and West Monroe will be placed Red Squill, which kills rats only, and in every commercial and industrial establishment, totaling more than 800, will be planted "1080," a deadly rat poison, used only in enclosed structures. In addition to all residential and commercial premises, levees on both sides of the river and vacant property will also be poisoned. It is expected that each of these campaigns will cost about $4,000 each and an effort will be made to raise a total of $8,000 in the May campaign to finance both rat control programs.

Every home occupant in Monroe and West Monroe will be requested to contribute $1 to this campaign. For this dollar the home owner will have his complete premises poisoned by experts twice during the year at a cost of 50c per poisoning. This work will be done by workmen trained by the health department and under the supervision of experts. An average of $10 per retail and service establishment will be collected and $25.00 from wholesale and larger industries.

The 12 P.-T. A. organizations in the Twin Cities will make the house-to-house canvass in the collection of funds in the white residential sections. The solicitation in the colored sections will be made by a group of progressive Negro citizens who are associated with various Negro church, social and civic groups. The campaign in the commercial districts will be conducted by businessmen under the direction of C. Holley and E. N. Thompson in Monroe and Joe F. Smith, Charlie Chisholm and Frank Pettit in West Monroe.

The first rat campaign will be conducted in June at which time it is expected that approximately 85 per cent of the 150,000 rats which are inhabitants of the cities will be killed. In November, a second campaign in which the entire Twin City area will be poisoned again, will practically eliminate our presently enormous rat population.

This rat campaign, according to Dr. Barker, parish health officer, just simply must be conducted this year because of the tremendous economic waste caused by rats, estimated at a minimum of $2 per year or a total of $300,000 for our present rat population of 150,000, and because of the hazards to public health caused by rats with their filthy habits and also the parasites which they carry around with them. Dr. Barker called attention to the futility of an individual poisoning his own premises which kills his own rats but within a week or 10 days he has a new supply from his neighbors' premises. The only way to solve our rat problem is on a city-wide basis, Dr. Barker stated. He urged every citizen of Monroe and West Monroe to join heartily in this campaign to rid the Twin Cities of their most undesirable inhabitants, our filthy, expensive, disease-bearing rats.

L. B. FAULK POST TO HAVE PARTY

Big Barbecue Planned For May 13; Meeting Slated Monday Night

The L. B. Faulk American Legion Post is planning a monster barbecue for members, of whom there are 800, to be held May 13. Final plans will be formulated at the meeting which will be held at the memorial home, Monday at 8 p. m.

There will be some important business matters to be discussed and all members are urged to attend. Honorably discharged World War II veterans who desire to join this post are asked to come at 7:30 p. m. with their discharge papers so that they may be formally admitted to membership.

The post's membership has grown by leaps and bounds and greatly increased facilities are required at the home. A project is still being promoted for a sizeable annex to the main building, plans for which have been tentatively prepared. It is probable that a report on the status of the building fund will be made at the meeting Monday night.

Tudeh followers in outlying provinces.

Premier Ahmed Qavam has promised to call elections for a new parliament immediately after Russian troops complete their withdrawal from Iran. The deadline for the evacuation under the Soviet-Iranian agreement is May 6.

Meanwhile a government official said no reports had been received of Soviet troops actually leaving Northwestern Azerbaijan province, but that some barracks had been vacated by the Russians in the provincial capital of Tabriz and occupied by Azerbaijan troops.

The desire for United Nations intervention in the election was expressed by a rightwing deputy who had served in the parliament whose tenure expired March 11. Returning from the Iraq border region, where he had been since the arrest of Rightist Leader Zia Ed-Din Tabatabi, he said:

"Our only hope for a fair election is intervention by the United Nations. The central government is influenced by the Russians, and the Tudeh party will seat the candidates it wants. Frankly, most rightwing leaders are afraid to announce for seats."

At a holiday rally here yesterday a Tudeh party leader declared "outlaw bands" in Mazanderan, Gilan and Khorasan provinces, recently evacuated by the Russians, "are terrorizing and torturing Tudeh members. If the central government does not intervene we must take vigorous action ourselves."

One party member was stabbed to death and his brother severely wounded outside the Tudeh Club in Tehran. Party leaders said the fight was the outcome of "a personal feud between the brothers and the men who attacked them."

Another amendment from farm state representatives is expected to propose that congress strip OPA of all authority over pricing of agricultural products and lodge this power with the agriculture department.

There are other proposals to require an end of price controls in various segments of the economy. One would take price ceilings off the petroleum industry.

Rep. Forand (D-R.I.), chairman of the committee of 63 "to fight inflation," declared "the committee will not stand by and see the American people cheated by the enactment of a price control bill so riddled with amendments that it would not be a price control bill at all. It would be an inflation bill."

The amendments already put in the bill by the banking committee, he said, "simply mean more profits for a few already prosperous industries" at the expense of consumers.

Hartley said he has been "playing down" the idea of a coalition to trim down OPA powers. He told newsmen he has been advised that unnamed members of the so-called coalition had been subjected to "sniping," and he argued that the purpose of the organization was not to destroy OPA but to correct its "abuses."

CANNON ARRIVES TO TAKE OVER DUTIES

SHREVEPORT, LA., April 13.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon, former commander of the U. S. Air Forces in Europe, arrived at Barksdale field today to take over his new duties as commander of the army air forces training command.

Gen Cannon succeeds Maj Gen. James P. Hodges whose assignment has not been announced.

It is General Cannon's first assignment in the United States since his return from the European theatre. In November, 1942, General Cannon went overseas and until April of 1943 served as commanding general of the Mediterranean Allied Tactical Air Force.

He was born March 9, 1892 at Salt Lake City, attended Utah Agricultural college and became a second lieutenant in the infantry reserve in 1917.

DEATHS

J. DEWEY LANDERS

MARION, La., April 13.—(Special)—Last rites for J. Dewey Landers, 48, who died suddenly in his sleep at his home here Thursday morning were held Friday afternoon at the Marion Baptist Church with the Rev. J. P. Burgess, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in Concord Cemetery under the direction of Kilpatrick Funeral Home.

Mr. Landers, a native of Union parish, was more than 20 years connected with the Marion State Bank, serving as both vice-president and cashier for several years until he resigned in September, 1944, when he became engaged in the buying and selling of oil and gas leases.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maxine Fuller Landers; two daughters, Miss Hilda Ellen Landers, a senior in Marion High School, and Mary Fuller Landers, age five; his mother, Mrs. L. W. Landers, Marion; and a sister, Mrs. Robert Gamble, Mansfield.

DR. JAMES O. LOPEZ

Dr. James O. Lopez, 33, died following a long illness at Sanatorium, Miss., Saturday morning. He had been on the staff of the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital, Monroe.

The funeral will be held at Franklin, La., today and interment will take place there.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Lopez, and son, J. O. Lopez, Jr.; his parents, and a brother, Capt. A. O. Lopez, Monroe.

MRS. VERA ALENE ROWLAN

The funeral of Mrs. Vera Alene Rowlan, 33, of Sycamore Landing, Tenn., who was instantly killed last Sunday in a storm that destroyed her home, will be held at the residence of Mrs. Guy Lord, on the Baker plantation south of Delhi, this morning. The Rev. H. C. Wroten will officiate and the pallbearers will be: Ernest Ogden, C. W. Kennedy, D. W. Blake, Talmadge Blake, Wilson Stephens and Albert Townsend.

The Mulhearn Funeral Home of Rayville will be in charge of the interment in a cemetery at Crowville.

Mrs. Rowlan's husband was injured in the collapse of the house and it was not learned how serious his condition is at this time.

She leaves besides her husband, the following brothers: Archie Graham, Crowville; Oliver Graham, Iuka, Miss.; Porter Graham, Tindall, La.; Charles Graham, Bastrop; Ezra Graham, Jennings, Ark.; Carol and Earl Graham, both of Pioneer, and two sisters, Mrs. Loretha Brazell, Crowville and Mrs. Lord, Delhi.

JOHN R. LEONARD

John R. Leonard, 36, Luna Star route, West Monroe, died yesterday in a local hospital after an illness of a week.

Mr. Leonard is survived by his wife, Mrs. Verdie B. Leonard; five sons, DeWitt, Johnnie Roy, Willie David, Kenneth Roy, and Ernest Marshall Leonard; and two daughters, Lucille Mae and Mary Ella Leonard, all of Luna Star route.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock with the procession moving from the residence to Luna Church where last rites will be conducted by the Rev. E. L. Tanner, pastor of the Assembly of God Church of West Monroe. Interment will take place in Lune Cemetery under the direction of Davis-Lawhead Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Harmon West, Ruff Bamburg, Eli Rawls, Sam Head, Victor Rutledge, and Ross Bickham.

MRS. MAE W. LILES

Mrs. Liles is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Adams, Liddieville, Mrs. Martha Parkes and Mrs. Josie Townsend, Winnsboro, and Mrs. Mary E. Thompson, Sikes; a son, H. L. Liles, Winnsboro; and one sister, Miss Frankie Wales, Artesia, N. M.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Boeuf River Baptist Church with the Rev. Thomas Ratcliffe, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in Ogden Cemetery under the direction of the First National Funeral Home of Winnsboro.

MRS. MOLLIE E. LAWRENCE

BASTROP, La., April 13.—(Special)—Mrs. Mollie Elizabeth Lawrence, 72, died here today at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Dallas Brent.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Coax Cemetery. Mulhearn Funeral Home of Winnsboro has charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Lawrence is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Tessie Freeman, Salinas, Calif., Mrs. Goldma Reagan, Monroe, Mrs. Dallas Brent, Bastrop, Mrs. Frances Dunn, Fordyce, Ark., and Mrs. Lillian Wollerson and Mrs. Elvis Parks, Winnsboro.

TEEN-AGE

they said, already have been drafted or have been rejected.

Army spokesmen who sat in the gallery during the debate said privately they expected a manpower stringency as a result of the legislation. Their only hope, they told reporters, lies in the Senate.

Cries of "politics" and "buck passing" arose over the holiday amendment and its provision that if recruiting fails to produce the needed men by Oct. 15, the resumption of drafting is up to the president.

Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts told the House that if it approved both the teen-age ban and the "holiday," it would be "engaging in a legislative mockery" and "a complete abdication of our responsibility."

He warned that it might cause "a wave of pacifism" and cause some countries to say "America is uncertain and wavering."

Before it got the beating on teen-agers the administration had been resigned to go along—reluctantly—on the draft holiday.

'CONFUSION'

these are far different from the actions which he approves."

It asserted he "pays lip service to the United Nations," adding:

"But he has failed to inform his representatives of official policy on vital matters, such as trusteeships and atomic energy control. He has thus added to the confusion of our international relations."

The committee mentioned Poland, Yugoslavia, council of foreign ministers, Bulgaria, Russia, Argentina, European relief, UNRRA, foreign loans, and "secret diplomacy" in criticizing the president's handling of international matters.

As for Russia, it said Mr. Truman's policy "has become a continuous exercise in drafting letters of protest * * *. These misunderstandings have resulted in no small part from the failure of the administration to say what it means and to mean what it says."

"As inept as the Truman administration has been in Asia and in Europe," the committee continued, "it has been incredibly stupid in its dealings with South America."

DEMOCRATS

districts are now represented by Republicans.

However, they even went into the districts of Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Majority Leader Robert McCormack of Massachusetts.

Democratic members of the House insist that if it were an honest mistake, some changes should be made in headquarters personnel with replacement by more efficient persons. Within the last ten days another "mistake" occurred in an editorial published in the Democratic Digest, party official organ, criticized some 107 Democrats, who voted for the Case anti-strike bill.

LEADERSHIP REQUIRED TO CONVENE MEETING

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—House leaders took virtually unprecedented action today to give a full airing to an intra-party row over administration of Democratic national headquarters.

An official party caucus on the complaints will be held next Wednesday behind closed doors in the House chamber. The party leadership was required to call the meeting when more than 50 members signed a petition for it.

The petition signers are aroused by what they term recent "boners" and "inefficiency" at national headquarters. Most of them want some type of "House-clearing" there. A few are even after the scalp of Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan himself. Representative Cox, Democrat, Georgia, told a reporter the caucus may ask President Truman to "dismiss" Hannegan.

Finis E. Scott, House postmaster and caucus secretary, said he did not recall any time on record when a caucus was called to act on a similar matter involving individuals and political policy.

Usually, he told a reporter, a caucus considers election of House committee members. Occasionally one is called to decide the party's stand on pending legislative issues. Scott said the last one he recalled was in 1933 on repeal of prohibition, but added that some have probably been held since then.

Scott expressed belief that any decisions at Wednesday's session probably will not be binding on members because of the nature of the issue. When a legislative question is discussed any decision reached is binding, unless a member reserves in advance the right to vote as he wishes.

Representative Cooper, Democrat, Tennessee, caucus chairman, said notices would be sent to all Democratic House members today advising them of the session.

Some of the aroused Democrats said they hoped to have the caucus adopt a resolution calling for a change in personnel and procedure at national headquarters.

Some administration supporters declared, however, that they doubted if any positive action would be taken.

lin) at Philadelphia, and American's plant at Baltimore.

The union originally demanded a 15 cent hourly pay hike. Since government-sponsored talks collapsed here earlier in the week, they have boosted their figure to 18 1/2 cents.

The companies have bid up to 13 cents at some plants and labor department sources said one company recently has indicated willingness to go as high as 14 cents.

Federal conciliators for the past several days have been talking separately with the American, National and Revere companies at New York, Philadelphia and Boston in attempts to arrange some basis for a settlement. However, little progress has been reported.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach appointed a fact-finding panel to make recommendations on the wage issue. Unions declined to postpone their strikes unless the companies agreed to be bound by the panel's decision, a demand the companies have refused. The panel has arranged to open hearings here next Tuesday.

vegetables will be larged in the next few months than they were during the January-March period.

Little change is expected in supplies of fruits and food fats and oils.

In comparison with 1945, the outlook for most foods for civilian consumption in the next few months was said to be improved. On a per capita basis only butter, margarine and sugar will be shorter than last year, the department said.

Despite the improved prospects, supplies are still short of demand.

TWO WAR VETERANS KILLED IN HOLDUP

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—Two holdup men, both war veterans, were shot to death early today in a gun battle with police who said they surprised them as they were looting an upper west side hotel.

One of the men, who attempted to shoot his way out with a .38 caliber German Luger pistol, fell fatally wounded in the hotel lobby.

Th second, wounded, fled but was dropped on the sidewalk a short distance from the hotel.

The shootings climaxed a week-long series of fatal shootings in the city which have brought death to eight persons.

Police said the two men, identified from papers in their pockets, as John J. Farragher, 32, and Albert J. Ray, former tanks corpsmen, entered the Hotel Berkley, bound and gagged the night manager then took $31 from him and $35 from a safe.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—Stocks, lower; steels, retail stores lead decline. Bonds, narrow; selected rails improve. Cotton, irregular; trade buying, profit taking.

CHICAGO—Wheat, unchanged at ceilings. Corn, unchanged at ceilings. Rye, unchanged to 5 cents higher; strong general demand. Cattle, nominally steady. Hogs, nominally; top $14.85.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—Stocks gave up further ground in today's market with steels and merchandising shares prominent on the decline.

Air transport issues were weak at the opening, reflecting unfavorable earnings reports, but the lower levels uncovered support for a recovery move.

Dealings continued light, with transfers for the two hours around 600,000 shares. Losses of fractions to more than a point predominated near the close, although some stocks affected by special situations retained plus marks.

Manufacturing issues, pinched by shortages incident to the soft coal stoppage, reflected concern over effects on income. Some lightening of accounts was attributed by brokers to belief that the market which approached its February peak early in the week had not completed a corrective move.

Bonds were narrow. Grains at Chicago were firm. Cotton was mixed.

COTTON

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Cotton futures were highly irregular here today. The nervousness apparently was due to the imposition by OPA of higher margins on April 9. Closing prices were steady 70 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower.

New York

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—The cotton futures market was highly erratic today with prices fluctuating over a range of about $2.00 a bale.

Heavy textile mill covering developed in nearby positions. Commission houses continued to sell deferred contacts owing to confusion over the fate of the Pace bill, which is designed to raise commodity prices through the revision of parity formula to include wages.

Futures closed 55 cents a bale lower to 65 higher.

BONITA TO PAY HONOR TO DEAD

Exercises Will Be Held Today For Men Who Died In War

BONITA, La., April 13.—(Special)—Bonita High School will conduct a memorial service for 11 hero dead in exercises to be held at the high school Sunday at 3 p. m. The junior and senior classes are sponsors.

Enlarged pictures of seven of the war heroes will be unveiled by students of the two classes. Special mention will be made of Richard Watson, who lost his life in Pearl Harbor. He was one of the first in the state to lose his life in this war.

The program will be initiated by Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" (piano) played by Mrs. T. C. Cotten, followed by invocation by Rev. C. J. T. Cotten.

Taylor Fenton, by Mary Smith; Namon Bray by June Mosley; Bunnie McKoin, by Sue Mathis; Gaines Causey, by Lucille Mayo; Billy Butler, by Doris Sisson; David Hogan, by Maxine Armstrong; Hawkins Dillon, by Elease Chandler; and a tribute to Richard Watson, by Ann Buatt.

Then there will be a presentation of Magnolia trees to the school as a war memorial by Mrs. J. B. Shackelford, of the D. A. R., and acceptance of the trees and pictures will be accorded on behalf of the school by Principal T. C. Cotten.

A tribute to the Bonita War Heroes will be made by George Goodwin; there will be special music and benediction will be offered by Rev. Cotten.

Coxe then compared state salaries paid teachers to deck hands, dredge and saw filers with those paid teachers, and reported that teacher salaries in the state range as low as beginner's pay of $945 a year for a teacher with a masters degree.

"We are not criticizing civil service pay scales as too high," he said, "but we are emphasizing that teaching pay scales are too low.

Prominent Weddings Are Widely Attended

Season's Most Brilliant Nuptial Event Attracts Society Almost En Masse

A fashionable throng filling to capacity the First Methodist Church, witnessed the marriage, Thursday night, April 11, of Miss Jane McKenzie, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. McKenzie and Mr. John Sherrouse, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sherrouse. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. A. M. Serex at 7:30 o'clock.

Simplicity characterized the decorative theme of the church with white Madonna lilies used exclusively. They overflowed from tall white wicker barkets interspersed with floor length candelabra. Hundreds of tapers pricked the dimness of the altar where the candelabra of graduated lengths formed an arch entwined with smilax and California fern. The choir loft was banked with green and studded with lilies.

While the tapers were being lighted the organist, Mrs. John Sholars, rendered a brilliant organ concert. She also accompanied the soloist, Mr. Jack May, who sang "I Love Thee" and "Oh, Promise Me."

Just before the nuptial hour members of the two families were escorted down the white carpeted aisle by the ushers in evening attire. Mrs. McKenzie, the bride's mother, wore a beautiful formal of flesh colored crepe trimmed in cut steel beads. The skirt was gracefully draped at one side. She wore a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Sherrouse, the bridegroom's mother, wore a beautiful aqua evening model with deep yoke edged with gold sequins. She also wore a corsage of orchids.

The pews reserved for the family and intimate friends were marked with sheaves of illies and white tulle.

The bride's attendants all wore white net gowns over white taffeta. They were ultra feminine fashioned with off-the-shoulder effect with deep berthas edged with a double net ruching. The skirts, bustle effect, were long and extremely full. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses, white daisies and blue forget-me-nots frilled around with lace.

The bride's two sisters, Mrs. Lea Thompson and Miss Barbara McKenzie, served as matron of honor and maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss June Sherrouse, Miss Marguerite McHenry, Mrs. John R. Miller and Mrs. Ray Haines. The junior bridesmaids were Alice Sherrouse and Clara Munholland.

The groomsmen were Mr. Henry Biedenharn Jr., Mr. Hap Aldridge of Enid, Okla., John Bennett Fudickar, Charles McKenzie Jr., Pete Peevy, Chevis Sherrouse and John R. Miller. Mr. H. K. Touchstone Jr. served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiantly beautiful in a picturesque wedding gown, an Emily model. It was fashioned of imported marquisette over white taffeta. A three-tired skirt edged with delicate tracery of French embroidery, ending in a frothy train burgeoned out from a slender waistline. The bodice was fashioned with drop shoulders trimmed with a naive panel of ruching.

The veil of illusion billowing out from the head in halo effect was caught to the hair with a chaplet of fresh orange blossoms. She carried a white ivory prayer book surmounted with a spray of gardenias and fresh orange blossoms. The prayer book was carried by her mother on her wedding day.

Members of the wedding party stood with Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie and Mr. and Mrs. Sherrouse at the entrance to the ballroom to receive the guests. In the background calla lilies overflowed from tall white floor pedestals.

Calla lilies also adorned the two lace covered tables placed at one end of the ballroom. At each end of the table mammoth crystal punch bowls were presided over by Mrs. John Breard in a pink lace evening model, Mrs. Harold Mouk in a white crepe, silver trimmed model and Mrs. C. W. Wallace in a pomegranate colored model. Individual wedding cakes were served with the champagne punch.

The bride's table, overlaid with handsome imported lace banquet cloth, was centrally adorned with a three-tiered wedding cake embossed in white roses and valley lilies and surmounted with a crystal urn filled with fresh white roses and fresh valley lilies. White tapers in silver candelabra burned at either end of the table and silver receptacles held white, rose embossed, mints.

The bride and bridegroom cut their wedding cake and before departing on their honeymoon the bride tossed her wedding bouquet. It fell into the arms of Miss Marguerite McHenry.

The bride traveled in a smartly tailored model of dark grey, red and black pin striped light wool model with black accessories and corsage of orchids.

The young couple motored to Mexico City for a three weeks' vacation. They will also visit Taxco and Cuernavaca. Upon their return to Monroe they will be at home at the Villareid apartments on North Fifth street.

The bride, one of the most popular members of the younger set, is a graduate of Northeast Junior College and the University of Alabama, where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority. She is also an active member of the Junior Charity League. During the past year she spent considerable time in Washington, D. C., where her father, Congressman McKenzie, maintains a residence.

Mr. Sherrouse was recently released from the United States army where he was a major and served for 18 months overseas. He also served for 18 months in Panama. He is a graduate of Culver Military Academy, the University of Virginia and L. S. U. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tanner and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Slack of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gilbert of Tularie, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. David Gehring of Akron, Ohio, Mr. Hap Aldridge of Enid, Okla.

Miss Mathis Is The Bride Of Gus Freiberger

Claiming the interest of a wide circle of friends here and in Franklin parish is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mathis, Winnsboro, La., of the marriage of their daughter, Pauline, to Mr. Gus Freiberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freiberger of Saratago Springs, N. Y. The wedding took place Tuesday, April 9, at 5 o'clock p.m., at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs. W. B. Evans, 2715 Lee Avenue, with the Rev. L. T. Hastings officiating.

The ceremony, performed in a setting of beautiful flowers, was witnessed by members of the family. Miss Dorothy Mills served as bridesmaid and Mr. H. D. Mathis, brother of the bride, served as best man.

The bride was attired in a beautiful blue spring model with black accessories in plastic. Her corsage was Talisman roses. Miss Mills was attired in pink with black accessories with a corsage of white carnations. Both the bride and groom's mothers wore black ensembles with white carnation corsages.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held for the wedding party and a few immediate friends. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mathis, Winnsboro; Mrs. Elizabeth Freiberger, Saratago, N. Y.; Dorothy Mills, H. D. Mathis, Winnsboro; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Meredith, Mr and Mrs. Edgar Brown and Mr. Floyd Brown, Tallulah; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Mathis and Mrs. M. D. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Evans and Willis, Jr., Mrs. Floyd A. Mathis, Helena, Ark.; Mrs. Leo Tauzin; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Moore, Miss Philomene Goodwin and Mr. L. C. Collie.

Mrs. Freiberger is a graduate of the Crowville High School, Crowville, La., and attended Bish Mathis Institute, Monroe. For the past two years she has been connected with M. G. Moore's Tailoring and Men's Wear. Mr. Freiberger attended Saratago Springs High School. He served the past four years in the United States army, being assigned to the 38th infantry division. He was stationed in the Pacific for two years.

Miss Precilla Dean Hampton of this city wore a beautiful white crepe model when she stood before the flower decked altar of the Methodist Church in Santa Rosa, Calif., to become the wife of Alvin Ernest Kimmel. A finger-tip veil fell to the bottom of her skirt from a beaded coronet. She carried a white prayer book surmounted with gardenias.

Rev. Cecil Wilkins, pastor of the church, officiated.

Before the wedding processional, little 10-year-old Polly Estes of San Francisco played violin selections. Jack Dollarhide sang the wedding songs, his selections being "Because" and "Today, Tomorrow and Forever," the accompanist being Miss Claire Coltrin, who also played the wedding marches.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Luella Kimmel, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a gown of pink taffeta and blue net, and wore a headband of pink carnations, matching a shower bouquet of the same blossoms.

Immediately after the exchange of vows, the wedding guests gathered at the Occidental Hotel to congratulate the newlyweds. Mrs. Earl Collins joined Mrs. David Kimmel, mother of the bridegroom, in welcoming the guests. Buffet refreshments were served from an attractively decorated table.

For the past month the bride has been a guest at the Kimmel home east of Santa Rosa. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hampton of Monroe, La., she came to Santa Rosa to await the discharge of her fiance, who was a corporal in the army air corps. She was educated in schools in Monroe and Shreveport.

Alvin Kimmel, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Kimmel, completed his education at the Santa Anna Junior College. He was recently discharged from the army.

The Fine Arts Club will meet Monday, April 15 with Mrs. E. E. Lawson on Auburn avenue. Because of a conflicting date, the club is meeting a week later than the usual date.

MRS. RODNEY CLINE HOSTESS TO MEMBERS OF REVIEW CLUB AT HER HOSPITABLE HOME

Mrs. Rodney Cline's hospitable home offered a lovely setting for the annual open meeting of the Review Club. Spring flowers in profusion banked the reception suite and dining room.

Mrs. Cline, standing with Mrs. W. T. Davis and Mrs. Henry Colbert, greeted the guests. Mrs. Allen Givens, Mrs. S. A. Collins, Mrs. F. V. Barnett, Mrs. Z. J. Byrd and Mrs. A. Huffman were introduced as new guests at this time.

The president, Mrs. W. T. Davis, introduced Mrs. A. R. Holloway, who read the Club Collect and led the group in singing "America."

An impressive ceremony installing the incoming officers was conducted by Mrs. E. P. Cudd, a former president. Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., president; Mrs. DeWitt Henry, vice-president; Mrs. John P. Noel, secretary, and Mrs. Sam Smith, treasurer, repeated the pledge of service for their respective duties.

Highlighting the afternoon's program was the review of Lyle Saxon's "Gumbo Ya-Ya." Commenting briefly upon the life of this well known author the speaker stressed the fact that his knowledge of the traditional folklore and history of Louisiana had fitted Mr. Saxon most admirably for the writing of a folk-study book of Louisiana. "Gumbo Ya-Ya," a Cajun expression which means "everybody talks at once, "is a potpourri of stories about Louisiana legends, beliefs, customs, witch and ghost stories written with a clear note of authenticity which given credibility to what might otherwise seem incredible tales.

"New Orleans, lusty, careless and indestructible, remains one of the most heterogenous of American cities," Mrs. Mitchell said, "and Louisiana, a melting pot for peoples and customs these 200 years, has been a land with its own peculiar kind of life—rich, vari-colored, explosive, more Mediterranean than Mississippian, a section in the United States but not essentially of it, even though it makes conventional obeisances to the prevailing customs. Its climate, accidents of history and lush geography have contributed to the superabundant materials upon which this book is based."

Beginning with the cacophonous mardi gras saturnalia of the Negroes in New Orleans, the book ends with appendices of superstitions, colloquialisms and customs and in between the pages are filled with what a reviewer has called the "underworld or other world manifestations." The Creoles, the Cajuns, the Germans, the Irish Channel, the Italians and Sicilians are depicted through their individual customs and are accredited with the kaleidoscopic, colorful panorama that is Louisiana.

Although much of the book is concerned with New Orleans, there are parts which hold interest for other sections. The ghost chapter, with its spirits of mild and violent natures; the parts dealing with were-wolves, slave trade, slave torture, buried treasures, the Mississippi waterfront, the folk songs and the slums, were each skillfully handled by Mrs. Mitchell.

A series of musical numbers rendered by Mrs. A. M. Serex, accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Liner, Jr., included: "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," "To My Mother," "The Lord's Prayer," all by Robert MacGimsey, a Louisiana composer, whose personal contact and service to the Review Club because of his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. V. McGimsey, have caused the members to feel an unusual degree of interest and pride in his outstanding achievements and recognition; "The Unseen Garden," by Guiseppe Ferrata, an insturctor under whom Mrs. Serex studied at Newcomb College. Mrs. Serex, who is making such a distinct contribution to the musical culture of this city, was in splendid voice and her brilliant and dramatic soprano was employed with skill and poignancy in the interesting group of selections.

A charming social hour was enjoyed during which refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table in the dining room. The table, overlaid with lace, was centrally adorned with a wide spreading plaque of pink azaleas. Mrs. W. T. Davis presided over the handsome tea service. Mrs. John Loftin, Mrs. Sam Smith, Mrs. A. R. Holloway, Mrs. Lea Thompson assisted in the courtesies.

Members of the club present included: Mesdames C. B. Braun, E. P. Cudd, Rodney Cline, Henry Colbert, W. T. Davis, D. W. Griffith, Allen Givens, DeWitt Henry, A. R. Holloway, John Loftin, D. M. Moore, John P. Noel, Lea Thompson, A. E. Huffman, F. V. Barnett, S. A. Collins, Z. J. Byrd, W. L. Mitchell, Jr., and Mrs. Sam Smith. The guest list included Mesdames W. B. Inabnet, Paul J. Neal, C. A. Nenney, Walter Crowell, Walter Rhodes, J. Nalda Averett, T. J. Cox, A. M. Serex, J. C. Liner, Jr., Theodore R. Moore, Margaret Feilbach and Mrs. R. E. Major, Sr., an honorary member of the club.

Among the courtesies extended Miss Betty Christmas, bride-elect, was the kitchen shower in the home of Miss Ruth Yeager. Miss Christmas, wearing a pearl gray spring frock, was the central figure in this group of intimate friends.

The table, covered with a lace cloth, was beautifully adorned with a plaque of pink azaleas. Crystal candlesticks held green tapers at each end of the table. Open-faced sandwiches, individual wedding cakes, and fruit punch were served during the evening.

Miss Yeager was assisted by her mother, Mrs. I. L. Yeager, in extending the courtesies to the following guests:

Miss Christmas, Mrs. A. J. Christmas, Mrs. Lorena Coleman, Mrs. E. P. Maupin, Mrs. R. L. Jacobs, Mrs. B. R. Roe, Mrs. M. B. Hearne, Mrs. Johnie Young, Miss Peggy Strong, Miss Lillie Mae Lewis, Miss Doris Roe, and Miss Marion Simmons.

Engagements Of Three Popular Monroe Girls Announced By Their Parents

Interest Centered In May Weddings

Three Members Of The Younger Set Will Marry During The Month Of May

The number of "feminine engaged" now reaches gigantic proportions with three more important announcements made today by the parents of the brides-to-be.

Of paramount social importance is the announcement made by Rev. and Mrs. Edward Farren Hayward of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to Mr. J. Floyd Stone Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Floyd Stone.

The wedding will take place May 14 at Grace Episcopal Church of which Rev. Hayward is rector. He will officiate and the bride-elect's brother, Lt. Edward Hayward Jr., who is stationed in Germany, will give her away. He will arrive in Monroe shortly before the wedding for a leave of absence.

Miss Hayward, a great favorite in younger social circles, is a graduate of Neville High School, Northeast Junior college and the Louisiana State University where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority. She is an active member of the Junior Charity League and at the present time is a member of the Georgia Tucker School faculty.

Mr. Stone is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School and Northeast Junior College and was a student at Louisiana Tech at the time he joined the armed forces. He served with the army air ground force in Africa for 26 months.

Another announcement of equal importance is made today by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton R. Russell whose daughter, Beverly Claire, is betrothed to Mr. James Paul Ransel, son of Mrs. John R. Ransel of Gary, Ind.

The wedding will be a prominent event of the month of May.

Miss Russell, one of the loveliest members of the younger set, is a graduate of Northeast Junior College and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. She is a member of Delta Beta Sigma and Kappa Delta Sororities. She is a member of Fort Miro chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and one of the most active members of the Junior Charity League.

Mr. Ransel is a graduate of Armour Institute of Technology where he obtained his B. S. degree in fire protection engineering. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. He was with the armed forces for four years and served in the European theater for two years. He is now associated with the Indiana Inspection Bureau in the capacity of fire protection engineer.

Claiming interest today is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Tabb of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Mr. Charles Joseph Riley the second of Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

The wedding will take place at St. James' Church, New York City, May 4, and will be widely attended by relatives and friends of this city.

Miss Tabb is a charming young woman and a great favorite in this city where she graduated from Neville High School and Northeast Junior College. She now holds a lucrative position with Fenner and Beane, stock brokers, New York City.

Mr. Riley is a graduate of St. Mary's, Hoosick Falls, and LaSalle Institute, Troy, N. Y. He is associated with the Knickabocker Newspaper in Albany, N. Y.

GIRL RESERVE CLUB ACTIVITIES

The Girl Reserve Inter-Club Council met at the Y. W. C. A. with Dorothy Anne Mitchell, president, presiding. Carolyn Bagwell, worship chairman, read a prayer from the book, "Prayers For A Busy Day." Plans for the Easter worship service were completed and it was announced that Mrs. A. M. Serex will be the guest soloist and Rev. R. T. Watson will be the guest speaker. On April 23 Miss Marie Russ, National Y. W. C. A. secretary, will address all clubs of Girls Reserves. On May 5 Girl Reserves are planning a tea to honor their mothers. On May 18 there will be a Girl Reserve rally, the last one of the year, and also time for installation of the presidents and vice-presidents of clubs for 1946-47. In June the annual ring ceremonial and a social to honor the fathers of Girl Reserves have been planned. Reports on club programs, socials and activities were given by representatives from the groups. Miss Sharp presented each member of the council with one of the books, "Prayers For a Busy Day," and the meeting was closed with the group reading a prayer from it and with the repeating of the code, slogan and purpose.

On Monday afternoon the Jolly Y Janes Club of Girl Reserves met with Carolyn Bagwell, president, presiding. Mrs. Mildred Swift was the guest speaker. She talked on "Table Manners" and the group practiced and demonstrated points from her talk. A question and answer period was enjoyed by the girls. After the program Mrs. McCoy, club adviser, served the group delicious punch and cookies. The meeting was closed with the code, slogan and purpose.

On Tuesday afternoon the Blue Triangle Kumjoynus Club met with the president, Ann Merriman, presiding. The devotional, a lovely poem, "Let Me Keep Lent," was read by Mary Bays Serex. Plans for the Easter party on April 16 were completed. A report of the inter-club council meeting was given by Ann Merriman and Mary Gertrude Rodriquez. The hostesses for this meeting were Billie Harvey and Patsy Jean Patterson who served delicious ice cream and cookies. The meeting was adjourned with the code, slogan and purpose.

On Thursday afternoon the Blue Circle Club of the Girl Reserves met with Anne Bower, president, presiding. The program was a very interesting and enjoyable talk by Miss Ada Bess Hart of the Northeast Junior College faculty. Miss Hart talked on "A Well-Balanced Life," with the four emphases, "Work, Play, Love and Religion," and then discussed with the group "Boy-Girl Relationships." After the program the plans for the hike and fishing trip on Saturday morning were completed. The meeting was closed with the code, slogan and purpose.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar Gray announce the marriage of their daughter, WAC Sgt. Dawn Marie Gray, laboratory technician at the Newton D. Baker Hospital, Martinsburg, W. Va., to James Edward Inabnet, son of Mrs. Maud Inabnet, Monroe, La., and the late Charles Inabnet.

The couple was married at a quiet ceremony in the West Monroe Methodist parsonage, March 9. Rev. Porter Caraway, the pastor, officiated. The bride was in uniform.

Mrs. Inabnet is a 1940 graduate of Monaca High School and Garfield Business Institute, Beaver Falls, and studied as a pre-medical student at Ohio University, Athens, about one year before she enlisted in the WAC. She is a talented flutist and won the county, state and national flute championships in the Music and Forensic League contests in 1938 and also participated in the biennial convention of the National Federation of Music Clubs, the world's largest organization of professional and amateur musicians, at Baltimore, Md., in 1939. She is a past member of the Pittsburgh Tuesday Musical Club and it was with the club's ensemble that she played at the convention.

She is a charter member of the Friends of Music of Beaver county and is widely known in musical circles. She studied at the Beaver County Music and Art center. As a Wac, she was graduated from the Medical Technical School at Wakeman General Hospital, Camp Atterbury, Ind., and assigned to duty at Martinsburg.

Her husband, a sergeant, was discharged in October, 1945, after serving 33 months in the Pacific as a surgical technician. He was graduated from Monroe High School. He is a student at Northeast Junior College.

BEAUTIFULLY APPOINTED TEA HONORS MISS LENORA AIROLDI IN THE L. W. BATTEN HOME

Among the lovely courtesies recently extended to Miss Lenora Airoldi, popular bride-elect, was a tea given by Mrs. L. W. Batten in her home on Neuwirth avenue, with Mrs. Thomas H. Sands serving as co-hostess.

Spring blossoms arranged with considerable artistry were placed at vantage points throughout the reception suite. Standing with the hostesses to receive the guests were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. J. Airoldi, and Mrs. Tom Mulhearn. Miss Airoldi chose for the occasion a smart Paula Brooks model in flesh tinted raw silk with panels of soft blue and yellow. She wore a jewel studded belt and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Airoldi was wearing an attractive green print with white gardenias, and Mrs. Mulhearn wore navy sheer with white carnations. Mrs. Batten choose a black and white frock with red carnation corsage and Mrs. Sands wore white crepe and a rose in her hair.

One of the features of the afternoon was the presentation of numerous beautiful and practical gifts to the honoree. Gayly wrapped packages contained china and glassware in her chosen patterns, handsome linens and other attractive pieces.

Following this lovely surprise, the guests were invited to the dining room where refreshments were served from the lace covered tea table. At one end punch was poured from a large crystal bowl which rested on a reflector that was surrounded by blossoms. Crystal trays holding white mints and individual cakes embossed in pink and green were passed among the guests. White candles burned in crystal holders to cast a soft glow over the table, and tea napkins bearing the inscription, Lenora, gave an individual note. Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. W. W. Stevens, who was wearing a smart black lace gown and a corsage of red carnations, and Mrs. C. B. Fluitt who was in a becoming black shear with which she used pink carnations.

Besides the honoree and others receiving hospitality of the hostesses were: Mrs. J. M. Wyatt, Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope, Mrs. James L. Malone, Mrs. C. J. Phelps, Mrs. Jack Gaines, Miss Hazel Mitchell, Mrs. Wood Brown, Miss Sarah Helen Word, Miss Dorothy Horton, Miss Irma Coverdale, Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton Mrs. Fred G. Thatcher, Miss Mary Clay, Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Mrs. F. L. Severance, Miss Sybil Daughtry, Miss Lela Fields, Mrs. G. W. Horton, Mrs. Rodney Cline, Mrs. C. B. Fluitt, Mrs. Rosa Turnbough, Miss Evelyn Cason, Miss May Read, Mrs. B. S. Brown, Mrs. R. C. Stokes.

Supper At Rhymes Plantation Is Charming Affair

The hospitable plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rhymes was in festive attire last week when their daughter, Mrs. Ben B. Cobb and Mr Cobb entertained the McKenzie-Sherrouse wedding party with a buffet supper.

Aperitifs were served the guests upon arrival and later they were invited to the dining room where supper was served from a candelit table florally adorned with an enormous crystal bowl filled with yellow daisies, yellow iris and snapdragon. Tall yellow tapers burned in silver candelabra of graduated lengths.

Silver trays held a luscious assortment of viands including cold sliced turkey, salads, relishes and a variety of pastries and other sweets.

The presence of Mr. C. E. McKenzie, who arrived from Washington last week for his daughaer's wedding and C. E. McKenzie Jr., who arrived home from the U. S. Navy a few days ago, rendered the occasion unusually festive and gay. Mrs. Thomas Gilbert of California was also present.

Mrs. Ray Rhymes and Mrs. L. Richard assisted in the courtesies.

Accomplished Young Voice Students Presented In Brilliant Costume Recital

Mrs. Sanders' Voice Pupils Win Plaudits

Costume Recital Is A Distinct Triumph In Local Musical Circles

Mrs. Estelle Sanders' beautiful coloratura soprano, like rare old wine, improves with the passing years. The audience, made up of music loving men, women and children, filling to capacity the parish school auditorium at her annual student recital, agreed that Mrs. Sanders' voice is now at the peak of perfection.

The flute like quality of her voice was heard to splendid advantage in Caro Nome, considered by some to be the chef d'oeuvre of Verdi. Her voice with its lyrical warmth and emotional qualities was ideally suited to this number. Each phrase was replete with meaning and deeply communicative. Never in fact has Mrs. Sanders' artistry, in all the years she has been singing, been displayed with greater conviction. The regal robe of royal purple velvet with silver cord at the wasitline and jeweled studded coronet, was the perfect type of costume. Mrs. Sanders' singing of Caro Nome at this year's recital will go down as one of the proudest records in the annals of her career in this city.

The year's recital was presented on a larger and more elaborate scale than ever before with gorgeous costumes supplied by a New Orleans costumer and the realistic scenic effects designed and executed by Mr. Wayne Wamsley, placing the entertainment on a high artistic plane. Mrs. Sanders' voice pupils are never presented in recitals unless they are quite capable of giving a performance worthy of their teacher and the instruction received. They also must possess a degree of dramatic ability. Each number on this year's program was presented skillfully and dramatically.

Miss Betty Rinehart, a great favorite in musical circles, sang a joyous, lilting song, Il Bacio, with all the abandon of one who is familiar with her song and possesses poise and assurance. Miss Rinehart's beautiful voice reached the climax of potency, volume and richness on this occasion. In fact we can say without fear of contradiction that her song was the outstanding number on the student's program. Her costume of white satin and silver lame, jeweled trimmed and with hoop skirt, was a triumph.

One number in particular, impressively presented, was Agnus Dei, sung by E. M. Wooten. He sings with a strong, manly resonance and with dignity and dramatic power so necessary in a song of this kind. The stained glass window in cathedral effect offered an appealing background. He wore a monk's costume with cape of cardinal red.

Miss Martha Prentice proved that she possesses the technical skill and the dramatic talent to sing to perfection, "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah. Her voice of warm color and stamina had resourcefulness and possessed qualities seldom found in one so young. The gown she wore added a dramatic touch. It was a regal costume of white satin and royal blue velvet. The mantel fell from her shoulders in a long court train heavily encrusted in jewels.

A touch of excellent scenic treatment was supplied by the rainbow colored bubbles floating above the head of Miss Barbara DeMoss who sang in delightful manner "The Bubble" from High Jinks. A group of young girls in floating draperies in all the rainbow colors joined in the chorus. It was most effective.

One of the most ambitious numbers on the evening's program was H. J. Wagner's rendition of Largo Al Factorum, from the Barber of Seville. His voice, sonorous and resonant, was ideally suited to this particular number. Technical skill and dramatic talent was necessary and he possesses both. The costume he wore was enchanting . . . dark blue velvet embroidered in jewels and a flaring jeweled cape lined with crimson satin.

One of the most warmly applauded, as it appealed to young and old, was the negro spiritual, Jeri-Jericho rendered by Bob Stewart.

The entire program abounded in dramatic numbers, beautifully presented. Especially acceptable was "Where My Caravan Has Rested," by Lela Fields. Her Oriental costume was glamorous to say the least.

A poignantly sweet number was "Vesper Bells" sung by Lela Fields. Still another was "Villanelle" sung by Billye Durbin.

Mary Lou Jowers sang a lovely number, "Welcome Sweet Wind."

Outstanding on the evening's program was Vissi D'Arte, Vissi D'Amore" from La Tosca, presented with technical skill by Martha Carroll.

Another number, "My Hero from the Chocolate Soldier, sung by Grace Byrd, was a favorite with the audience and still another equally appreciated was "Summertime" by Joan Severance.

Maurice Tucker sang a colorful number, "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows." The scenic effects were unusually effective.

Three other numbers, beautifully rendered were "My Heart Is a Silent Violin" by Jean Dozier, "'Tis Spring O' the Year." by Violet DeCuir and "Come to the Fair," by Earline Hammer.

Dorothy Powell was responsible for one of the most artistic numbers on the evening's program, "Artist's Life," by Strauss. She wore a beautiful white satin Colonial costume and sang in lovely voice while dancing gracefully to the lilting music.

Mrs. Sanders' costume recital this year was a distinct contribution to the musical, cultural and artistic side of life and was more widely attended than ever before. In fact it has been a long time since a Monroe audience has heard as felicitious a song recital.

The interest of friends in this section is centered in the marriage of Lovidee Alicia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy, of Alto, and Mr Andrew Calvin Craft, Jr., son of Mrs A. C. Craft and the late A. C. Craft, Sr., of Lake Village, Ark. the impressive ceremony, marked by charming simplicity, was performed in the ancestral home of the bride's parents at 6 o'clock in the evening, March 30, with the Rev. Hall Peyton officiating.

A program of music included, "Because" and "At Dawning" by Cadman, sung in beautiful voice by Mrs. D. R. Sartor, aunt of the bride, with Mrs. Hall Peyton at the miniature organ. White iris and roses banked the improvised altar space illumined by white tapers burning in floor candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in the traditional wedding dress of duchess satin with fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white bride's roses. As a charming sentiment she carried a handkerchief which was made by an aunt, Mrs. Cornelia Vickers Hemler. All brides of the Hemler family have carried this handkerchief.

Miss Joanna Irving McCoy attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. C. S. McConnell, another sister, was matron of honor. They wore dresses of pink and blue marquisette, with bouffant skirts, basque waist. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and blue dutch iris tied with pink and blue ribbons.

The groom was attended by Mr Maurice LeBlanc as best man and Dr. C. S. McConnell as groomsman.

Mrs. McCoy, mother of the bride, was dressed in blue crepe, with white rose corsage.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. Miss Eliza Ann Balfour Sartor, cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. William Thomas Sartor, aunt of the bride assisted in serving the 3-tiered cake embossed in calla lilies and lilies of the valley surmounted by a miniature bride and groom.

The bride was graduated from Mangham High School, attended N. J. C. of Louisiana State University and B. M. I., of Monroe. At the time of her marriage was a valued employe of a law firm of Monroe, La.

Mr. Craft was graduated from Neville High School and attended N. J. C. and Tulane University from which he left to enter the service of his country. He served, as paratrooper during the invasion of Hitler's European fortress, under General Patton.

The couple left for a brief wedding trip the bride wearing an ensemble of light beige with black accessories and orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Monroe, La. The guests were limited to members of the two families.

LOVELY ENGLISH BRIDE

Mrs. Reneau G. Breard, the former Miss Anne Margaret Goodman of Leicester, England, who arrived recently in the states and joined her husband in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Breard are making their home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Armand Breard.

Purely Personal

Mrs. Reneau G. Breard, a lovely English girl whose marriage to Mr. Breard took place at the home of her parents in Leicester arrived in Monroe a few weeks ago and has already endeared herself to a wide circle of friends. She loves the south and especially Monroe but finds the weather most oppressive. She has been told that the heat is unprecedented for the month of April and is waiting patiently for cooler days. April in Leicester is the loveliest month of the year so naturally this English girl misses the cool, balmy weather.

Sailing from Southampton on board the Queen Mary was quite an experience. Let Mrs. Breard tell you in her own words of her trip across the Atlantic:

Naturally the worst part of my trip over here was saying "goodbye" to my mother and friends, but the knowledge that soon I was to be reunited with my husband carried me through.

I left Leicester (pronounced Lester and not Licester as the majority of you will insist on doing!) at 7 a. m. on March 7th. My mother and aunt accompanied me as far as Waterloo Station in London which is as far as relatives were allowed. We were then put on a special train which took us to Tidworth which was to be our home for the next few days.

There were many a heartbreaking scene as the special train left but it wasn't long before we began talking amongst ourselves and the conversations were practically all the same. "Where are you going," "How long have you known your husband,-' etc.

We arrived at Tidworth at 3 o'clock, were given a short lecture and then taken to our billets. I was placed in a room with 13 other girls and it wasn't long before we were all friends.

We were at Tidworth for 5 1/2 days during which time we had medical examinations, our money changed from pounds to dollars and our luggage was checked to see that it coincided with the customs regulations.

During our stay at Tidworth the American Red Cross girls were marvelous to us. They went out of their way to help us and I for one really appreciated it. They organized a style show for us and I then decided that I would throw my trunk overboard at the first opportunity. I also made up my mind that as soon as I reached New York I would shop until my husband was broke. (Needless to say I didn't do either!)

Great excitement spread over the camp when we heard that we were leaving for Southampton on March 12th in order to sail on the "Queen Mary."

We left Tidworth at 3 o'clock, March 12th and two hours later we were aboard the "Queen Mary." Here words fail me as the splendor of the ship overwhelmed me—to say it was a floating palace would be a gross understatement.

We were shown to our cabins and I found myself in with seven other girls.

The first thing we all did was to cable our husbands and also telegraph back home saying that at long last we were aboard and ready to sail for America.

We sailed from Southampton at 7 a. m. on March 13th. (Fortunately I wasn't superstitious so I settled down to enjoy the trip.)

I stood on deck and watched the shores of England fade in the distance and I couldn't help but think that "There'll always be an England."

We had our first meal on board at 7 p. m. after which we all felt much better. It consisted of everything which had been in short supply in England for the past six years. The food really was good and there was plenty of everything.

The second day out at sea 90 per cent of the girls suffered from seasickness, but not me. I didn't miss a meal.

We hadn't been on board very long when we learned that the Queen Mary was to convey Mr. Churchill from New York back to England.

I occupied my time with table tennis, picture shows, and drinking cokes.

We passed the Statue of Liberty at 4:15 in the morning on March 18th. Needless to say every girl was on deck.

I was allowed off the ship at 11:30 a. m., and was delivered into the safe keeping of my husband. (I'm sure you don't want me to give a detailed account of our meeting!)

We stayed in New York until March 22. I will be quite honest and say that I wasn't too thrilled with New York except of course the shops.

My husband and I motored down here to Monroe via Virginia and I enjoyed every minute of it. After seeing the sea for five days it was a pleasant change to see so much beautiful countryside.

We arrived at Monroe on March 26th and thus my journey was ended, but it was well worth while.

During the time I left home until I arrived at New York the organization was perfect and I would like to take this opportunity of thanking all concerned. I would also like to thank the American Red Cross girls for everything they did to make our journey more pleasant. I know I speak for every bride when I say it was appreciated.

I am now living in Monroe and I can truthfully say that I like it, although I am finding your hot weather rather hard to bear but I guess I shall get used to it in time.

Again I must say that everyone here in Monroe has been very kind to me. To everyone concerned I say "Thank you."

Louisianians who live elsewhere always experience a twinge of homesickness each year when April rolls around. It's the most beautiful month in the year in Monroe where towering oaks flaunt leafy green branches, red rambler roses clamber over trellises, yellow lilies bloom in shadowy nooks, violets and pansies border garden walks and the sweet olive sends forth its alluring perfume associated with old southern gardens since time immemorial.

Nobody likes gardening more than the Stanley Reids. That's why their home is now one of the beauty spots of Monroe. Since their lives are crowded with so many interests there's a limit to the time they can spend on their garden so they created a landscaping scheme that would give them out-of-door beauty without too much work on their part. Each year when April rolls around scarlet rambler roses clamber over the house in the most fascinating manner imaginable. These roses rival in beauty and color anything shown in nursery catalogs. Motorists drive out of their way to feast their eyes on the mass of glorious color and to marvel at the perfection of the roses.

The Reid garden isn't limited to flowers that bloom in the spring by any means. There are many varieties that bloom straight through the summer and winter. Very soon now the gardenias will be in bloom . . . masses of them in hedge effect encircling the patio.

All seasons are beautiful in the Reid gardens but at no time is there such a dramatic splash of color as this moment with the red rambler roses blooming in all their glory.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy . . . it helps keep the skin soft and pliable . . . thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin . . . for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.

GRAY HAIR?

DON'T BE DISCOURAGED!

Simply wet it with Canute Water. A few applications will completely re-color it similar to its former natural shade. IN ONE DAY—IF YOU WISH. Then primp just once a month and KEEP it young-looking.

Canute Water is not a tint or rinse that washes off. Shampooing actually improves the rich, warm new color and leaves your hair fresh, clean and natural to the touch. You may even curl it or get a permanent.

CANUTE WATER

Leading dealers in most of America's largest cities sell more Canute Water than all other hair colorings combined!

• Pure, colorless and crystal-clear. • 30 years without injury to a single user. • REALLY SAFE! Skin test NOT needed. • Proved harmless at one of America's Greatest Universities.

No other product can make all these claims

Music Festival Is Brilliant Event

Compositions By Robert Schumann Featured On The Two-Day Program

The Northeast Junior College auditorium was the scene of a two-day music festival devoted to the compositions of Robert Schumann, the programs being presented on the evenings of Monday, April 8, and Tuesday, April 9.

The 1946 festival is the second such affair which the college has sponsored under the general direction of William P. Grant, who since September, 1944, has been head of the music department. Last year's festival was devoted to a similar exposition of the compositions of Beethoven.

The Monday night portion of the festival opened with an address on Schumann's place in music and history, made by Mr. Grant. In it he criticized modern composers who sneer at Schumann's music, yet offered a strong plea for the support of modern composers in general. Emphasis was placed on the fact that Schumann was a modernist in his day.

Schumann's Kreisleriana suite for piano opened the musical portion of the program, with Mr. Grant performing. This eight movement composition seeks to reflect the various moods of a fantastic novel by the German author E. T. A. Hoffman.

This was followed by the three romances for oboe or clarinet or violin, with piano, of opus 94. These thoroughly Schumannesque pieces were performed by Mrs. Esther F. Grant, instructor in violin at the college, and Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton, of the piano faculty.

Two of the talented preparatory students were heard next, Joe H. Monroe, Jr., of Girard, and Ethel Rose Rogers, of Columbia. Both of these young people acquitted themselves more than creditably in some of the shorter piano pieces from the pen of Schumann, and both were very warmly received by the audience.

The high-light of the first program was reached with the appearance of Miss Emy-Lou Biedenharn, contralto, in four of Schumann's songs. Miss Biedenharn, well known in Monroe, has a concert career extending to many metropolitan cities of the United States and Europe, and her performance of the four songs is something that would be impossible to forget. Lovely tone-quality, excellent enunciation, and above all a marvellously studied-out projection of the mood, characterized her singing, coupled with an unusually gracious stage personality. Miss Biedenharn, with her pianist, Mrs. R. L. Prichard of Monroe, were the first guest artists to appear on the festival. Their work together is like that of a single person.

Two short compositions for organ, played in the recital-hall of the music building, completed the first program. Another gifted preparatory student, William H. Huckabay of Mer Rouge, won many friends among the listeners with his work at the Hammond organ.

The second program of the festival occurred on the following evening, and was distinguished by the splendid work of four additional guest performers, John F. Shenaut, Mrs. June Spriggs Aldrich, Carl E. Forsberg, and Gilbert T. Saetre, all of Natchitoches, who comprise the Northwestern State College string quartet. Their carefully-rehearsed performances of the quartet in A Minor and the quintet for string quartet and piano drew highly favorable comment. The group is distinguished by splendid musicianship and a good sense of ensemble. In the quintet they were joined by Mrs. Eloise Calhoun Stanhope of the Northeast Junior College piano faculty, whose work was one of the high spots of the program.

Miss Gertrude Sandrock, instructor in voice at N. J. C., gave a tender and moving performance on one of Schumann's most important compositions, the song-cycle A Woman's Life and Love. Endurance is no small factor in the projection of this lengthy eight-movement work, but there was no evidence of fatigue as Miss Sandrock concluded the tragic final song of the cycle. Her reading stressed contrast in the tempos of the eight songs. Mrs. Stanhope's work at the piano in this number was also of the finest quality.

Bridal Shower For Mrs. J. W. Beasely At The White Hotel

Mrs. W. E. Megison, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. W. L. McDermott, Mrs. Thomas Hinton, Mrs. M. D. Ballard and Mrs. S. T. Johnson were hostesses at a reception and shower held at Hotel White, Clarks, La., complimenting Mrs. J. Warren Beasley, who was, before her recent marriage, Miss Virginia Reitzell.

Colorful spring flowers banked the reception room where guests were received by Mrs. Thomas Hinton, Mrs. L. S. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Warren Beasley.

A pink and white color theme was partrayed in the dining room where the refreshment table was covered with a hand-made lace cloth. An artistic arrangement of pink Columbia rosebuds and white Shasta daisies centered the table, and pink tapers burned in crystal candlebra at each end of the table. Mrs. Victor deLadurantaye presided over the crystal punch service. Miss LaVerne Lewis and Mrs. James R. Cooper passed trays of ornately embossed individual cakes among guests.

Later in the evening the opening of the gift packages was of paramount interest. Seated near the bride to assist her were her husband, and her mother, Mrs. Alice Reitzell, also the Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beasley, and the groom's sister, Miss Patricia Beasley.

Mrs. Thomas Hinton, Mrs. L. S. Montgomery, Mrs. Victor deLadurantaye, Mrs. James R. Cooper and Miss LaVerne Lewis wore floor-length evening models.

Among those who were privileged to extend best wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Beasley at this event were Mrs. Ivy Smith, Mrs. R. E. Busch, Mrs. T. E. Skirvin, Mrs. V. E. Lewis, Mrs. J. W. MISS MAIBLE HOOD ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE BUSINESS PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Maible Hood will guide the destiny of the Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club during the coming year. She was elected to this office at a recent meeting of the club at the Frances hotel.

Miss Hood has demonstrated the greatest ability and versatility in planning and conducting the recreational and contact features such as the annual "Boss" Banquet, the third district luncheon meeting, and various programs and parties throughout the year. She is a favorite with her fellow club members, and has every assurance of their loyal cooperation. Other officers elected were: First vice-president, Mrs. Inas Gwin; second vice-president, Miss Bessie McDonald; secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Atkinson; treasurer, Miss Ruth Thomas. Board members elected to succeed those whose terms expire at this time were: Mrs. Earl Coates, Mrs. Lucille Mathis, and Mrs. Valerie Couvillon. The retiring president, Mrs. Miles, automatically becomes a member of the board.

The meeting was one of unusual interest as it was highlighted by the serving of a delicious dinner arranged by Mrs. Carolyn Moxley, one of the club members. It was the birthday anniversary of the retiring president, Mrs. Gladys Miles, and due to her exceeding popularity, was presented with beautiful gifts. The cutting of a beautifully embossed birthday cake was another delightful feature of the supper hour.

Mrs. Evelyn Atkinson, on behalf of the club members, presented Mrs. Miles with a beautiful crystal punch bowl and 12 crystal cups in the Candlewick pattern. Mrs. Atkinson spoke of the steady growth of the club under Mrs. Miles' leadership and expressed the sentiments of all club members when she spoke of the excellent work accomplished by Mrs. Miles during her administration. During this time the club membership reached 92.

Much interest was expressed in the state convention to be held in Lake Charles during May. A speaker from the National Federation will be the main feature, and a work shop on "Do you know your Federation?" conducted by two past state presidents, Mrs. T. L. Witter of Alexandria and Mrs. Eunice Stuckey of Ruston, will be of interest and value. The club's quota of delegates were elected as follows: Mrs. Jennie Thornton, Miss Mary Humble, Mrs. Inas Gwin, Mrs. Evelyn Atkinson, Mrs. Laura Slator, Miss Agnes Brice, Mrs. Leta Tisdale, Miss Bess McDonald, Miss Ruth Brimberry, and Miss Olivia Robinson. Alternates elected were: Miss Jean Bonham, Mrs. Valerie Couvillon, Miss Bess Ward, Mrs. Carolyn Moxley, Miss Alice Baur, Mrs. Maud Poag, Mrs. Jewel Wise, Miss Harriett Hirsch, Miss Hazel Cox and Mrs. Mae Modes.

Following the birthday observance routine business was disposed of. A contribution of $15.00 toward the cancer control fund was voted. Members were informed of the loss sustained by Miss Florence Powers in the death of her stepmother, and affectionate sympathy was extended. Officers for the coming year were then elected.

Those in attendance at the meeting were:

Miss Ann Adams, Mrs. Effie Allen, Mrs. Margaret Allbritton, Mrs. Evelyn Atkinson, Miss Melba Banks, Miss Alice Baur, Miss Jean Bonham, Miss Agnes Brice, Miss Ruth Brimberry, Mrs. Earl Coates, Mrs. Valerie Couvillon, Miss Hazel Cox, Mrs. Grace Colvin, Mrs. Florence Davis, Mrs. Johnnie Elbert, Mrs. Inas Gwin, Mrs. Clara Harkness, Mrs. Faye Heard, Miss Harriett Hirsch, Miss Mary Humble, Miss Lucille Jones, Mrs. Emma Keene, Mrs. Lucille Mathis, Mrs. Gladys Miles, Mrs. Mae Modes, Miss Bessie McDonald, Miss Mamie Ober, Mrs. Grace O'Dell, Miss Mary O'Kelly, Mrs. Maud Poag, Mrs. Myrtle Porter and guest, Mrs. Smelser, Mrs. Evelyn Reims, Miss Olivia Roberson, Mrs. Frances Ritter, Miss Bernice Reese, Miss Hazel Switzer, Mrs. Laura Slator, Mrs. Ethel Sibbold, Mrs. Ruth Surguine, Miss Alma Terry, Miss Ruth Thomas, Mrs. Jennie Thornton, Miss Hazel Wakefield, Miss Bess Ward and guest, Mrs. Mary Cammack, Mrs. Jewel Wise.

THIS IS ONE OF A SERIES OF ADVERTISEMENTS BEING SPONSORED BY OUTSTANDING INDUSTRIES AND ESTABLISHMENTS IN THE TWIN CITIES

EXCELLENT PAPER GIVEN BY MRS. EDWIN CROWLEY AT MEETING OF LITERARY SOCIETY

Members of the Monroe Literary Club were privileged to hear an excellent talk on Mahatma Gandhi delivered by Mrs. Edwin Crowley at the last club meeting.

Mrs. Crowley said in part:

"It has been said that Mahatma Gandhi is the biggest thing in India; and I think that is why Louis Fischer wrote the book, 'A Week With Gandhi.'

"Mr. Fischer begins the book with his meeting of Gandhi whom he describes as a tall, brown and white figure who has to be supported by two persons in order to walk and he speaks with an English accent. After a week of interview with Gandhi, Mr. Fischer gave his comments on this man as he saw him.

"Gandhi never hesitates to admit error and by preference he does so publicly. In May, 1942, as a consequence of the failure of Sir Stafford Cripps' mission, Gandhi announced that, 'The British must go. They must withdraw their troops or I will start a campaign of civil disobedience.' In June, he altered this demand in a conclusion in his weekly magazine, Harijan, by saying, 'There was obviously a gap in my first writing and I filled it in as soon as it was discovered by one of my numerous interviewers. I could not be guilty of asking the Allies to take a step which would involve certain defeat. Abrupt withdrawal of Allied troops might result in Japan's occupation of India and China's sure fall. I had not the remotest idea of any such catastrophe resulting from my action. Therefore, I feel that in spite of the acceptance of my proposal to liberate India it is deemed necessary by the Allies to remain in India to prevent Japanese occupation, they should do so.'

"Gandhi's life goal is freedom for his country and yet he predicts that there will be no order after the British leave thus enabling his critics to say: 'Gandhi predicts chaos if the British leave.' Gandhi wants to disband the Indian army which is made up of men who have volunteered because they were hungry. He would like to organize a new army to be trained from India's millions.

"Gandhi sometimes takes delight in expounding ideas which are impractical. He scoffs at modern inventions. He says that he cannot turn back the clock. He cannot abolish the automobile, but he can make fun of it. He asserts that federal administration is not necessary. If you point out the difficulties that would arise in the absence of a federal administration, he is unconvinced. Then you argue further and he finally says: 'I know that despite my personal views there will be central administration.' This is a characteristic Gandhi cycle: He enunciates a principle, defends it, and ultimately admits that it is unworkable. There is something of the dictator in him when he wants action. Then he crushes opposition by the weight of his logic and the strength of his popular following. But there is nothing of the dictator in his thinking. A dictator can never admit he is wrong Gandhi can; he often does.

"Gandhi is very much of a Hindu. The Hindu religion is a tolerant and sponge-like religion. Hindus believe in one God. Some also believe in Christ. Some are atheists; they claim that Hinduism is a code of life independent of a deity. Some pray to idols. Some worship mountains and rivers and gods who were once men and women. The Mt. Olympus of Hinduism is densely populated, but many Hindus are sure that there is a place reserved in it for Mahatma Gandhi.

"In his pursuit of independence there is a musical harmony between Gandhi and millions of Indians. Great leaders must have this harmony; it is the source of their greatness. Winston Churchill has manifested it in many of his speeches. He says brilliantly what so many plain English citizens say crudely to their neighbors or say to themselves at night. You follow a leader who is you in a better edition. Gandhi is father and brother to millions of semi-naked, half-starved, not-too-intellectual peasants and workingmen who want to attain dignity and prosperity through national effort. He is a chip of their block. He also answers the prayers of innumerable highly cultured Indians and mighty industrialists who resent the foreign yoke or even the mere presence of an outside overlords."

BRILLIANT BANQUET IS THE HIGHLIGHT OF PILOT CLUB CONVENTION IN THIS CITY

Any pride the Twin Cities might entertain for their leading women's organizations is fully justified in the progress made by Pilot Club International. This week-end the Monroe Pilot Club is hostess to the clubs of district three convening in Monroe for the annual spring convention. District three is composed of clubs from Jackson, Alexandria, Baton Rouge, Shreveport, Biloxi, Meridian, Columbus, Tupelo, Greenville and Monroe.

The visitors were greeted Saturday morning at the Virginia Hotel by a group of members of the Monroe club. After formal registration, the convention opened with an active business session with Mrs. Annabel Davies, district governor, presiding. The business was conducted in an efficient manner by Mrs. Davies. Miss Elizabeth Hayes, international guest from Raleigh, N. C., was introduced and welcomed.

The program was diversified with a delightful social hour. Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table.

The business meeting was then resumed during the afternoon conclusion.

The highlight of the convention was the banquet, at which the members and their guests were privileged to hear an inspirational speaker, Dr. Clara Tucker, dean of the home economics department of Louisiana State University. She spoke effectively on the "Qualities Women Bring to Business," and encouraged the Pilots to take an active part in the civic problems of their communities and to work together with open mind and tolerance.

Originality and ingenuity was reflected in every detail of the banquet table arranged in the form of a pilot wheel. The speaker's table formed the center and the additional tables were grouped in clever manner to depict the spokes of a wheel. A mass of feathery green fern fronds interspersed with yellow Calendulas formed the beautiful central decor of the speaker's table. Green satin ribbons radiated from the center of the table to the edge where plaques of yellow flowers were placed.

The Pilot emblem was dramatically displayed on a large banner of green and gold, forming a backdrop for the tables. Clever witticisms abounded in the pertinent remarks made by Mrs. Janice McIver, toastmaster, and contributed materially to the evening's entertainment. The program was also enhanced by a voice number by Rose McMichael of Alexandria, La., piano solo by Marie Houston Moore of Meridian, Miss., and a dance number by pupils of the Roan School of Dancing.

The activities of the convention were concluded with a Sunday morning breakfast, at which time Elizabeth Hayes brought greetings from International headquarters.

St. Joseph

Mr. Johnny Schuchs, Jr., has returned to the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala., after a week-end visit to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Schuchs in St. Joseph.

The Episcopal Auxiliary are holding a weekly study class during Lent. The class meets each week at Christ (Episcopal) Church and all the women of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollaman Cook were hosts at a house party given at "Mayflower," their plantation home in honor of Mr. Cook's nephew, Mr. George Brignac, of Crystal Springs, Miss., and Mrs. Cook's nephew, Mr. Wilbur Lee Todd, of Oxford, Miss. Mr. Brignac has just returned from the European theater of the war and Mr. Todd from the Pacific theater and the house party was a family gathering to celebrate their safe return. Besides the two guests of honor, the other members of the family present were Mr. Todd's mother, Mrs. Robert E. Todd, of Oxford, Miss., Mrs. George Brignac, of Crystal Springs, and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Burroughs, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and her little son, Dick Burroughs.

COLORFUL OPERETTA TO BE PRESENTED BY PARISH HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR EARLY IN MAY

One of the outstanding musical events of the season will be the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Pirates Of Penzance," by the Ouachita Parish High School choir under the direction of Miss Velma Nichols and Miss Gail McDonald on the afternoon of May 1 and the night of May 2.

The first scene is a rocky seashore, haven of the pirates, and the second a moonlight scene, depicts an old Gothic cathedral. Miss Eugenia Summers, head of the art department, is supervising the designing and the painting of the sets. Tickets may be purchased from members of the choir or at the Ouachita Parish High School. The members of the cast are: Major General Stanley, Bob Stewart; Pirate King, Jack Jones; Samuel, his lieutenant, Tommy Hayes; Frederic, the pirate apprentice, Frank Parker; Sergeant of Police, Danny Christman; Mabel, Major General's ward, Mary Lou Jowers; Edith, Earline Hammer; Isabel, Major General's ward, Joyce Toler; Ruth, pirate maid-of-all-work, Martha Prentice.

In the girls chorus are: Sharon Anderson, Patsy Alexander, Elna Christian, Helen Garrett, Sue Hunt, Martha McDonald, Martha Moseley, Beryl DeLoach, John Anne Lewis, Ann Mulhern, Betty Sisson, Rose Marie Wall, Geraldine Jones, Pat Rector, Bonnie Adams and Edwina Albritten.

Personals

The Misses Arabella Bancroft and Carol Layton arrived home April 12 from the Hockaday School in Dallas to spend spring vacation with their parents.

Miss Bancroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft, 1200 St. John's Drive, is a student in the Fifth Form of the Prep School and a member of the Art Club.

Miss Layton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Layton, Layton Place, is a student in the Hockaday Junior College and a member of the Inter-American Athenium. Miss Layton plans to spend two days in San Antonio as the house guest of Miss Peggy Stark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Stark, 302 College boulevard, another Hockaday student.

All Hockaday students will resume their studies in Dallas April 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Kitchen had as their guests for a week's visit Mr. Kitchen's mother, Mrs. Nancy Kitchen of Rolla, Mo., and her daughter, Mrs. Ray Hallows, of Cincinnati, O., and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Kitchen, of Salt Lake City, Utah. Before coming to St. Joseph, Mrs. Nancy Kitchen and members of her family enjoyed a family reunion in Rolla, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Castle had as their guests for a few days' visit Mrs. Castle's sister, Mrs. Edward Seymour and Mr. Seymour, of Monroe, La., and their two sons, Edward, Jr., and Prentice Seymour.

Friends here of Mr. William H. Boatner, of Vidalia, La., are glad to hear that he has recovered from his recent illness and has returned to Vidalia and is with relatives there, for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fox, of Silver Mine, Conn., were guests for dinner and a part of the afternoon, recently of Miss Marjorie Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. S. Stiles, of Crowley, La., are guests of Mrs. Stiles' sisters, Misses Ethel and Lucille Reiber, for a visit of two weeks.

Mrs. Alice Baxter and Miss Marion Curry were visitors to Natchez, Miss., for the afternoon during this week.

A. L. Jones, Jr., of the naval air corps, stationed in Japan is enjoying a leave of absence and joined his sister, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Jr., in this city. They motored to Philadelphia to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jones, accompanied by Mrs. Porter's daughter, Patricia.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. John Sherrouse are planning to leave April 25 for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will be guests at the Arlington Hotel. Later they will attend the Kentucky Derby in Louisville.

Mrs. C. F. Smith of Salem, Ore., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Wiley Shamblin, Mrs. D. L. Newman and Miss Lettie Foy, and her niece, Mrs. C. J. Shirah.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gehring and son returned to their home in Akron, Ohio, Friday morning following a visit with Mrs. Gehring's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Terzia. Mrs. Gehring was formerly Miss Clara Virginia Terzia.

PRESIDING AT CONVENTION

Big Leagues Launch New Era In Field Of Baseball Tuesday

National Loop Expects '46 To Be Most Stirring Season In League History

By Ford C. Frick
(President of National League)
(Written for Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—In a couple of days another baseball season will be on its way—the 71st campaign for the National League.

There are few enterprises in this country that can boast of being in business continuously for so many years and we in the National League are indeed proud of such a record.

Any business or organization to function so long, particularly one in the entertainment world, most certainly has provided what the exacting American public demands.

The National League is most assuredly aware of that and, also, of its future obligations to the baseball fans. That is why all of our eight teams have worked so industriously at their training camps.

All eight of our clubs enter this season confident that the 1946 championship race will be one of the most stirring in the league's history. All managers feel that their teams have been strengthened and I am sure that those who see National League games this year are going to witness well-contested games.

Evidently the fans realize this possibility, too. Their interest this spring is proof of that. Never before have there been such crowds at exhibition games as have turned out this spring. Rarely has there been such a demand for season tickets.

There is every reason to believe that the attendance this year will exceed the record total of the two major leagues of last year.

There isn't any doubt that the baseball fan realizes that, for the first time since the 1941 season ended, he again is going to see the brand of big league ball to which he had been accustomed before the war. He knows that, with almost 90 per cent of those outstanding players who had been serving their country now back, he is going to see the best that can be had.

All this is encouraging to us in the National League and it is my prediction that the 1946 season will not only be a prosperous one, but will result in the kind of a championship fight that will be followed intensely by all fans in the country.

BENGALS THIRD IN 3-WAY TRACK MEET

HOUSTON, April 13.—(AP)—The Texas A. and M., Rice and Louisiana State track teams all lived up precisely to predictions in a triangular meet on Rice Field today as the Aggies took first place going away, while Rice followed in second place and the Tigers were third.

The Aggies rolled up 74 1/2 points against the Owls' 54 1/4 and L. S. U.'s 41 1/4.

Although Coach Frank Anderson's Aggies had the team point situation well in hand from the very start, the battle for individual honors was a tight battle right down to the very last event—the broad jump. Bodiford of Rice came off first with 11 1/4 points, nosing out Louisiana State's Bobby Lowther who had 11 even.

Bodiford took first, as expected, in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash and anchored the winning sprint relay team to get his points. Lowther had a chance to outscore Bodiford by taking third in the broad jump but came in fourth behind Jess Mason of Rice and got only a single point. He previously had taken first in the pole vault and javelin.

Augie Erfurth of Rice and Herb Graves finished in a tie for third place in individual scoring with ten points each. Erfurth was an easy winner in both hurdles events while Graves helped the Tiger monopoly of the field events with firsts in the discus and shot put.

NEW LOOP MEETS TUESDAY NIGHT

Good Pine Withdraws But Full Circuit Expected In League

The new North Louisiana Baseball League, a semi-pro organization formed early the past week at Clarks, will meet here Tuesday night for the purpose of completing plans for the opening of its season May 6.

Five clubs were on hand for the organization meeting, but since then one, the LaSalle Oilers of Good Pine, has withdrawn leaving an opening for the addition of at least two more clubs if any desire to join the circuit that already includes Clarks, Baskin, Bastrop, and West Monroe.

The meeting here Tuesday night is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the News-Star—World office.

The North Louisiana circuit is the first attempt at bringing a form of organized baseball back to this area since the war, and a six or eight club circuit would be welcomed if other towns in this area are interested in backing clubs of their own. Winnsboro is among towns being invited to come into the league since the Franklin parish town was among those expected to be represented at the organization meeting at Clarks last Tuesday.

The league plans to play games twice each week through the summer. Rules and regulations drawn up at the Clarks meeting will be up for further consideration along with the presentation of a schedule at the meeting here this week.

The Good Pine decision to withdraw was learned here yesterday in a communication from Lynn Steed, business manager for the Oilers, who said directors of the LaSalle Oilers, at a meeting after the Clarks session, had decided that "we could not enter due to our having games booked up to the middle of May with others pending."

"We are indeed sorry that this league was not organized earlier, before we made so many obligations, so that we could have entered," Steed said. "We certainly feel that it (the league) will be a great success."

The Oilers have been operating as an independent team playing other teams throughout Louisiana and Arkansas, and have been busy booking such dates for several weeks. Only Thursday Good Pine received confirmation of a game with the Lion Oilers of El Dorado, Ark., for Sunday, April 21.

SKY TRACER WINNER AT TROPICAL TRACK

MIAMI, Fla., April 13.—(AP)—Lightly-backed Sky Tracer captured the $5,000 added Dade county handicap at Tropical Park today, paying $15.90, $7.00 and $5.00 across the board. Silver Star Stock Farm's Cipamink was second.

Return Of Great 'Name' Players Increases Interest In American Circuit

By Will Harridge
(President of the American League)
(Written for the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 13.—(AP)—The 1946 baseball season, from a standpoint of fan interest alone, should be the greatest in the game's history.

After four wartime seasons, major league baseball returns to peacetime calibre, with scores of great stars resuming their careers and with numerous newcomers making their bids for recognition.

The likelihood of close pennant races and the resumption of the major league's all-star game in July are other factors which would make 1946 as interesting a season as the game ever has enjoyed.

Remarkably fine crowds at exhibition games this spring have attested to the interest of the fans, who long have been awaiting the retun of such American League stars as Joe Dimaggio, Ted Williams, Joe Gordon, Bob Feller and Tex Hughson, to mention only a few who are back from service.

Every baseball fan likes a hustling player and a hustling club. This 1946 season is certain to produce both. For with the return of so many veteran performers and the rise of many young players who developed in service or in the minors, this coming American League season should be highlighted not only by a close fight for the pennant, but also by contention for regular positions and for the batting and pitching championships.

Less than a year ago the American League had almost 300 of its players in the armed forces. Some 260 have returned to civilian life, with most of that number having rejoined their clubs. With the makeup of almost every club dominated by returning regulars, the fans are certain to have a season in which playing calibre will be greatly improved in every department of the sport.

Resumption of the All-Star game should be a mid-season highlight. On July 9, the 13th game of this inter-league series will be played in Fenway Park, home of the Boston Red Sox.

Cancelled last summer because of the transportation emergency, this annual battle between the greatest stars of the American and National League should measure up to the standard of pre-war All-Star classics.

RICKET OUSTS BILL NICHOLSON

Switch In Outfielders Only Change Cubs Have Made In Lineup

CHICAGO, April 13.—(AP)—Marvin Rickert, the lean, larruping rookie who did brawny Bill Nicholson out of his outfield job with the Chicago Cubs, was front and center today as the Cubs and White Sox came home to wind-up their disjointed "city series."

After doing civic battle at the Sox's Comiskey Park today and at Wrigley Field tomorrow, the two clubs square away for the regular season get-away Tuesday when the Sox entertain Cleveland and the National League champions invade Cincinnati.

Unlike the White Sox, who have made many changes since last season, the Cubs present the benching of Nicholson, National League homerun and runs batted in champion in 1943 and 1944, as the chief variation from the line-up that won the 1945 title for Manager Charley Grimm.

It will take more dynamite than the feeble batting fireworks Nicholson popped this spring to dislodge Rickert from the right field occupancy. The 25-year-old Long Branch, Wash., left-handed swatter scotched any chances Big Nick might have had to grace the opening line-up when he blasted a homer, double and single yesterday as the Cubs trimmed the Sox 11-2 at Davenport, Ia., and took a 2 to 1 edge in the series which began in California. Ricket hit .389 in spring exhibition games compared to .120 for Nicholson.

Ricket, fresh from Coast Guard service, got the jump on Nicholson when Bill was playing contractual hide-and-seek with the Cubs early in spring. Nick, who hit an anemic .243 in '45, got his chance later, but specialized in pop-ups and soon found a comfortable spot on the bench.

"We're going to give Nick a lot of batting practice," explained Grimm, who is a Nicholson fan from way back, "maybe he'll find himself suddenly." Rickert just grins and says nothing.

The White Sox, who finished sixth last season, will be without Manager Jimmy Dykes, who has been ordered back into a Los Angeles hospital. Coach Mule Haas is directing the club.

L. S. U. LINKSMEN WIN OVER TULANE

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Louisiana State defeated Tulane, 11-7, in a golf match on the par-67 Audubon Golf Club course here today.

Jimmy Wittenberg, No. 1 Tiger, and Bobby Cole, No. 3 LSU player, led the Bengals with 73's. Wittenberg beat Woodward of Tulane, 3 to 0, and Cole beat John Stahl of Tulane, 2 1/2 to 1/2.

Timbrook of LSU tied Bob Duffy of Tulane, each scoring 1 1/2 points, and Luca Barbato of LSU lost to Malcolm Miller of Tulane, 3 to 0.

Wittenberg and Timbrook beat Woodword and Duffy, 2 to 1, in doubles while Cole and Barbato beat Stahl and Miller, 2 to 1.

Timbrook scored 74 and Barbato had 80. Woodward had 76, Duffy 75, Stahl 75 and Miller 75.

ALAMOND WINS IN JAMAICA HANDICAP

Eastern Favorites Upset In Rich Race; Islam Prince Is Second

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—The east was supposed to put a couple of its Kentucky Derby glamor boys on display for the folks at Jamaica today, but a pair of western speedsters, who also have their sights set on the run for the roses, spoiled the show.

While the two fancied easterners, Marine Victory and Mist O'Gold, wallowed behind, Alamond, from the barn of Cleveland Accountant Al C. Ernst, and Islam Prince, stretch-running hope of J. B. Theall of New Orleans, finished one-two in the mile-and-a-sixteenth Experimental handicap, and thereby served notice that they'll be taking that train ride to Kentucky for Col. Matt Winn's $100,000 merry-go-round May 4.

Although Ernst's $10,500 yearling buy of two seasons ago hit the wire a length in front to chalk up his third straight win as a three-year-old, Islam Prince's flying finish made him look like the fellow more likely to succeed when they stretch out to the Derby's mile and a quarter. Alamond packed only 106 pounds—part of which was Jockey Arnold Kirkland—while the Prince toted 114 and closed from fifth place.

The east's Derby hopes in this first local prep over a distance of ground came in for a particularly rude shock, especially since the sardine-packed Saturday crowd of 47,102 backed Marine Victory down to odds-on in a betting spree that shot right past last Saturday's skyrocketing opening day total. Today they tossed $3,731,123 into the iron men despite a new five per cent tax "bite" by the city which brings the total slice to 15 per cent.

Obviously, the cash contributors poured it in on the Baltimore Gee-Gee from the barn of Robert Bruce Livie, because of his ten-length win in his first outing. But all the fight was taken out of Marine Victory when he hooked up with Alamond in a flashy struggle rounding the stretch turn, and he brought his 120-pound impost home third, a length and a half back of Islam Prince and 2 1/2 behind the winner, who clicked off the mile and a sixteenth in 1:44 4/5. Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Misleader, a Preakness candidate, was fourth.

Meantime Mist O'Gold, a Florida stake winner owned by Mrs. Vera S. Bragg of Noroton, Conn., never got into high gear and ambled in fifth in the field of six. The only horse behind him was Challedon's kid sister, Challadette.

The victory for Ernst's $9.50-for-$2 shot gave him a winner's paycheck of $10,750, boosting Alamond's 1946 earnings to $18,225 and his two-year total to $21,560.

PROBABLE PITCHERS FOR MAJOR LEAGUE OPENERS

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—Probable pitchers for Tuesday's opening day games in the major leagues. Last year's won and lost record in parentheses:

National League

American League

Cleveland at Chicago—Feller (5-3) vs. Rigney (0-0).

St. Louis at Detroit—Potter (15-11) vs. Newhouser (25-9).

One oil company is teaching 4-H clubbers in its area how to maintain, repair and operate powered farm machinery.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—The boxing managers' "gilt" is feuding with the Michigan commission about what the managers think was an unjustified penalty against one of their members. . . . As a result Detroit Promoter Nick Londes and possibly Commissioner John J. Hettche are expected here Monday to smooth things out so that New York tigmers won't always be "busy" when they're wanted in Detroit. . . . With the $400,000 Santa Anita meeting opening Tuesday, purse distribution on the grand circuit will hit a new high of $1,525,000 this season. . . . The All-America football conference has decided to sign only college players, preferably graduates, hereafter. Does that mean after you knock an opponent down and step on his face you'll have to apologize in a "Hahvahd" accent?

Fit To Be Tied

Clemson and Davidson were playing a typical early-season baseball game the other day—ragged but with a close score. . . . As the teams went into the sixth with the count at 4-4, a Clemson stenographer who had been given time off from her duties for the game arose and started out of the stands. . . . "Where you going?" asked a nearby baseball fan. . . . "Five o'clock—quitting time," the gal replied and walked on out.

Sports Before Your Eyes

Auburn's leading pole vaulter, Bill Cole, sings in his church choir and has had several offers to become a professional—singer, that is. . . . High school and amateur boxing are going strong in the Pennsylvania hard coal region, where kids used to think only a sissy fought with gloves. And, starting next semester, Maryland University resumes its compulsory boxing program for freshmen and sophomores. . . . Jake Powell, former Yanks, Senators and Phillies outfielder, is returning to the Washington Sandlots where he got his start. He'll play for a furniture company team, which isn't a bad spot for a ball player to go when the old rockin' chair begins to get him. . . . Former Middleweight Champion Freddie Steele has been signed for a featured role in a movie called "The Black Angel." . . . We thought the angels were confined to the wrestling racket.

Curly Lambeau: "I had just one season of college football but it was under Knute Rockne at Notre Dame. I count that one season worth about three under any other coach."

Observation Car

Since the Mexican League rumpus arose, this department has noticed several suggestions that any ball player good enough for the majors should be paid at least $5,000 (some make it 10 g's). . . . With an all-season player limit of 25, that would make a minimum roll of $125,000 plus whatever it cost for the 15 others each club is allowed until June 15. . . . From here it seems any such figure would make it very tough for a kid whose ability to make the big league grade looked doubtful. Maybe most clubs could afford the dough but it wouldn't be good business to keep a $5,000 man riding the bench as "insurance" against possible injuries when he could be shipped back to the minors.

NEW YORK GIANTS BUY MINNEAPOLIS MILLERS

MINNEAPOLIS, April 13.—(AP)—Horace Stoneham, president of the New York Giants of the National League, in a joint statement with Mike Kelley, owner of the Minneapolis Millers in the American Association, Friday night announced the purchase of the latter team for an undisclosed amount of money.

Stoneham said Kelley would remain as president of the Millers and that no other changes were contemplated, other than that "we may furnish some pennant-winning ball players to the Minneapolis team."

SENIOR SOFTBALL LEAGUE FORMING

Prospective Entrants Asked To Contact Recreation Director

The Senior Softball League, one of several such organizations for various age groups to be sponsored by the Monroe recreation department, is beginning to take form, according to Director Jack Hesketh who last night said teams already "promised" included the American Veterans of World War II (Amvets), Southern Bell Telephone Company, and Peacock's Jewelry.

Several other teams are known to be preparing to seek membership in the league, Director Hesketh said, and he urged that such teams have representatives contact him as soon as possible at the Monroe Recreation Center, 1700 South Grand street.

Southern Bell Telephone and the St. Francis School of Nursing are early teams listed for the Senior Girls' Softball League, and the addition of at least two more is being sought.

Director Hesketh also announced that he has a team of boys in the 13-15 year age group ready for the Intermediate League who must have a sponsor, and any firm or organization desiring to back a team is requested to contact the recreation director. All teams in the leagues must have sponsors and adult managers.

Softball here this year will be altered in accordance with new rules drawn up from the game.

Most drastic change is the elimination of the "tenth" man on softball clubs. The tenth player, known as the roving shortstop or short fielder, is out and teams will consist this year of nine players handling positions corresponding to baseball.

Bases will also be only 55 feet apart instead of the previous 60 feet. The batter's box will measure three feet wide by seven feet long instead of three-by-six, with the additional foot extending in front of home plate and giving the batter the option of standing a foot nearer the pitcher if he desires, and a batter hit by a pitched ball will be permitted to take first base just as in baseball.

LECOMPTE WINS

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 13.—(AP)—LeCompte High School won the Central Louisiana Rally softball championship by defeating Bolton High of Alexandria, 4 to 2, in the finals at Louisiana College late yesterday.

PRACTICE TIME TO BE ALLOTTED TEAMS

The city's softball-baseball diamonds located on various school and playground properties are for the use of all teams desiring them, but the demand for the utilities for practice purposes is so great that it will be necessary to allot practicing time on the diamonds, it was announced last night.

These diamonds are at Barkdull-Faulk, Lida Benton, Sherrouse, and Neville, and teams planning to hold practice sessions will be required to obtain permission for use of the diamonds at alloted times on a basis of first-come-first-served.

Diamonds will be alloted to Monroe's softball and baseball teams upon request to Director Jack Hasketh of the Monroe Recreation department.

"It is our desire to give all teams an equal opportunity to use these diamonds," Hesketh said. "Often two or three teams will appear at the same diamond with the intention of a practice workout only to find another club already on the field. Such conflicts can only be eliminated by assigning dates upon request.

"This step is necessary because of the many teams we are organizing and they need an equal opportunity to practice."

OWEN GREETED BY HUGE CROWD

Fans Jam Park At Mexico City To Welcome Former Dodger Catcher

MEXICO CITY, April 13.—(AP)—Mickey Owen was the talk of the town today in Mexico City, and traffic was jammed around Delta park as fans swarmed to get their first peek at the former Brooklyn player.

Mexican League President Jorge Pasquel spread the word about that Owen, who arrived yesterday under a five-year contract, would be introduced during today's Mexico City-San Luis Potosi game. It was the drawing card of the week.

The 30-year-old catcher, obtained from the National League after a disagreement with Dodger Boss Branch Rickey, may play his first game Thursday.

Pasquel is arranging to have his latest grab from organized ball assigned to the Vera Cruz club, of which he is president. (League officials sign the players here, then distribute them among the clubs.)

What to do with Ramon Bragana, Cuban Negro pitcher who has managed Vera Cruz successfully for many years, is a problem still to be ironed out. Owen's contract calls for managing and playing.

If Owen goes to Vera Cruz, he may see his first action next Thursday, when the Blues open a series with the Mexico City Reds. Until then he will train, Pasquel indicated.

There also was joy in the Pasquel camp because Alex Carrasquel, veteran American League flinger who has been shelled from the mound three times, finally found his form as he held Nuevo Laredo to six hits last night. Vera Cruz won 9-2.

Roy Zimmerman, Nuevo Laredo first baseman formerly with the New York Giants, was injured and will be out a week or two.

He was replaced by Tom Gorman, another ex-Giant, who came here as pitcher.

Pasquel said more U. S. players will be here soon. He hinted there may be a new catcher coming for tomorrow if Owen plays for Vera Cruz.

Owen's unexpected arrival yesterday after he apparently was enroute to confer with Rickey, caused a sensation among already enthusiastic fans. Pasquel called it an "atomic bomb."

Sales of liquefied petroleum gases for household use last year were 540,000,000 gallons, an increase of 23 per cent over 1944.

L. T. I. PELS WIN 'B' TRACK TITLE

Plain Dealing Takes Class A And Sweepstakes At Ruston Rally

RUSTON, La., April 13.—(AP)—Plain Dealing High and Louisiana Training Institute of Monroe won the Class A and B titles, respectively, in track and field events of the North Louisiana High School Rally at Louisiana Tech today.

Points scored were:

Class A—Plain Dealing, 76; Haynesville, 42, and Jonesboro-Hodge 36.

Class B—Louisiana Training Institute, 59; Elm Grove, 44, and Benton and Lisbon, with 32 points, tied for third.

The Class A sweepstakes trophy of the general rally went to Plain Dealing with 138 1/2 points, including 62 1/2 in literary events and 76 in sports.

The sweepstakes award in Class B was won by Lisbon with 92 points, including 60 in literary and 32 in sports.

In the track meet Saturday, Butler of Plain Dealing set a new Tech Rally record for the 440-yard run, his time being 51.8 seconds. The previous Tech Rally record of 52 seconds was set in 1945 by Hudson, also of Plain Dealing.

Coach Willis Tarver's L. T. I. boys won eight first places with the winners being Bill Temples, high hurdles and 440-yard run; Louis Simpson, half mile run; Ted Thetford, low hurdles; Leonard Demaree, javelin; Charlie Ferlito, discus; and the relay team of Temple, Thetford, Simpson, and Randolph Luke winning the mile relay and the shuttle relay.

Other points were scored by L. T. I. as follows; Luke, third in 100-yard dash; James Sehion, second in mile; Lloyd Marcel, fourth in 220; Temple, third in high jump; Bobby Boudoin, second in shot put; W. C. Ates, second in runing broad jump and third in hop-step-jump; and Luke, third in pole vault.

FARMERVILLE WINS

RUSTON, La., April 13.—(AP)—Farmerville defeated Bernice, 8 to 7, to win the Class A baseball championship in the North Louisiana High School Rally today, and Doyline trounced Hico, 7 to 1, to take the Class B title.

Results of preliminaries were: Bernice 9, Haynesville 0; Farmerville 10, Byrd High of Shreveport 5.

A feature of the baseball rally was the pitching record of Henry Albritton of Bernice, who, hurling against Haynesville, struck out the first seven men and assisted in the other two putouts of the first three innings. All told, he fanned 14, allowed two hits and walked one player.

FOOT ITCH

ATHLETE'S FOOT

RELIEF GUARANTEED OR MONEY BACK

At least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get relief from this disease as quickly as possible because it is both contagious and infectious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Why Take Chances?

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to destroy the germ, whereas, upon contact, laboratory tests show that H. F. will kill the germ Tinea Trichophyton within 15 seconds.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of relieving Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. H. F. gently peels the skin, which enables it to get to parasites existing under the outer cuticle.

Itching Often Relieved Quickly

As soon as you apply H. F. you may find that the itching is relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are better. Usually this takes from three to ten days.

H. F. should leave the skin soft and smooth. You may marvel at the quick way it brings you relief.

BROWNS SHADE CARDS

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—(AP)—Joe Grace hit a home run in the eighth inning to give the St. Louis Browns a 3-2 win over the St. Louis Cardinals today in the opener of the annual city series. Newman (Tex) Shirley held the Cards hitless during his four-inning stint.

RHYTHM BOWLERS HOLD LEAD IN STATE TOURNEY

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—The Rhythm Amusement team of New Orleans held its lead in Class A of the Louisiana State Bowling Tournament in second week-end competition today.

Johnny's Restaurant and Bar of New Orleans rolled only 2,583 to finish far down the list.

In Class B the Fritos of Shreveport still led with 2,655 rolled last week, and Abbot Clothiers of Shreveport with 2,566 remained in second place.

Watson's of Lake Charles took over first place in Class C with 2,517 to top the Flits of Baton Rouge, who posted 2,394 last week.

9TH INNING HOMER NIPS L. S. U. TIGERS

Ole Miss Rebels Win Second Straight From Bengal Nine, 6 To 5

UNIVERSITY, Miss., April 13.—(AP)—Big Bill Erickson, University of Mississippi center fielder, clouted out a home run in the ninth today to give his team its second victory in a two-game baseball meet with Louisiana State University, 6 to 5.

The Rebels went into the ninth trailing the Tigers 4 to 5. Mize, leadoff man for the Rebels, grounded out to Lindsey. Davis drew a walk and Erickson hit the second pitched ball out of the park.

The Rebels collected eight hits off Bankston, the L. S. U. hurler. Woodward, starting pitcher for the Rebels, gave up four hits in 7 1/3 innings and Majures allowed the Tigers one hit in the 1 2/3 innings he pitched.

Coach Tad Smith's Mississippians got under way in the first inning to score one run. After Davis beat out an infield hit Erickson singled to left and Reed singled to center to score Davis. The first L. S. U. tally came in the second after Lindsey's single to right field and two errors by Bruce, Ole Miss first baseman, brought Lindsey across home plate.

The Tigers scored three times in the eighth inning, on a single by Critzer, sacrifice by Croates, double by Adcock to score Critzer, Lindsey's double to score Adcock, and Knight's single to score Lindsey.

YELLOW JACKETS WIN DISTRICT TRACK MEET

NATCHITOCHES, La., April 13.—(AP)—The Byrd Yellow Jackets of Shreveport defeated their home town rivals, the Fair Park Indians, 99 to 71 today to win the Class AA championship at the sixteenth annual Northwest Louisiana prep school track and field meet at Northwestern State College.

The DeRidder Dragons downed the Natchitoches Red Devils, 76 to 52, for the A division title and the Marthaville Mustangs led a field of seven teams with 48 1/2 points for the championship of the B division.

Second place in the B division went to the Pelican thinclads with 39 points, third to Merryville with 37 1/3 and fourth to Pleasant Hill with 33.

Gamble of Marthaville broke the B class 880-yard dash record with a time of 2:10.5. The mark set by Glover of Coushatta in 1940 was 2:11.1.

Poole of DeRidder was high point man of the meet with 20. He placed first in high jump, century dash, and 120-yard high hurdles.

LARUE, TAYLOR BOUT TOPS CARD

Sledge And Macias Billed For Semi-Final On Thursday Mat Program

Jack LaRue, absent from the southern wrestling circuit since the beginning of the recent war, comes back to Monroe next Thursday night for a main event date with Frank Taylor, Toledo, Ohio, Promoter Gus Kallio announced last night.

The matching of LaRue and Taylor will bring together a pair of ring warriors matched in weight, height and general build, and Promoter Kallio said he considered the match "a natural."

Taylor made his first appearance before the local customers the past Thursday in a draw contest with "Gorilla" Macias, burly Mexican veteran of 18 years in the ring. Taylor and Macias gave the fans one of the most exciting brawls the local critics have seen in weeks, and both battlers are coming back this week but not for a rematch.

The Mexican star will pit his wits this week against Bill Sledge, Novosota, Tex., in the semi-final event of the card. Sledge has given good performances in two matches here to date, and Senor Macias has proven quite colorful with the result that the curtain-raiser might prove the crowd-pleaser Thursday.

The LaRue-Taylor schamble will be over a 90-minute time limit distance, two falls to win. The semi-final will have an hour time limit, also two falls to win.

GREENIE NETTERS TROUNCE BENGALS

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Tulane's tennis team won all six matches in a meet with Louisiana State's less experienced netmen today.

The two-school meet shared honors with an exhibition match in which Billy Talbert of Wilmington, Del., Gardnar Mulloy of Florida and Jack Cushingham of California joined with Ernie Sutter, New Orleans star. The visitors were en route to the River Oaks Tournament in Houston.

Mulloy defeated Cushingham despite the latter's beautiful net game, 7-5, 8-6. Talbert defeated Sutter, 6-2, 6-2.

Talbert and Mulloy then teamed to win over Sutter and Cushingham, 6-3, 7-5.

In the college match Bill Connerry downed Lee Hammond, 8-6, 6-3. Leslie Longshore defeated Joe Stevens, 6-1, 6-3. Maurice Lagarde won over Meredith Bogan, 6-1, 6-0, and Rufus Harris trimmed Dan Hardesty 6-2, 6-1.

Harris and Longshore won from the Tiger doubles combination of Stevens and Logan, 6-3, 6-1. Lagarde and Coultas Pears won over Hammond and Earl Williams, 9-7, 6-1.

WAR-PARALYZED GOLFER PLAYS GAME HE LOVES

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13.—(AP)—Pfc. Joe Zachariah of Baton Rouge, La., Louisiana State amateur golf champion in 1941, is paralyzed from the waist down as the result of a war injury—but he's not letting that interfere with his links play.

Four or five afternoons a week Joe tours the pitch-and-putt course at Kennedy General Hospital here where he is a patient. He makes the rounds in a wheelchair.

He also is teaching the game to other ambulatory patients.

Zachariah, who has a sister and two brothers who also are golf champions, served with the 101st airborne division in England and France. He was wounded June 16, 1944. He has been in the hospital here for 31 months.

TULANE SPIKEMEN DEFEAT MERCHANT MARINES, 92-22

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Tulane trackmen romped over a team from the Merchant Marine Academy, Pass Christian, Miss., here today, winning a dual meet 92 to 22.

Hugh Liles, Tulane naval R. O. T. C. student who last year won both hurdles events at the Southeastern Conference tournament, captured the 220-yard lows in 25.2 seconds.

Rube Rubach of the Merchant Mariners upset Liles in the 120-yard high hurdles. He took the event in 15.5 seconds.

MANAGERS WILL END MEET TODAY

Representatives From 16 Louisiana Cities Are In Attendance

The annual convention of the Louisiana Chamber of Commerce Managers' Association, which got underway here yesterday, will be concluded at Hotel Virginia today in sessions that begin at 10 a. m. and be closed with a luncheon beginning at 12:30 p. m.

George D. Holland, manager of the Monroe and West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and president of the association, presided at yesterday's meeting with representatives from 16 Louisiana cities present.

T. H. Scott, president of the local chapter, delivered the welcoming address as the convention opened yesday afternoon, and was followed with the response of Jim Langan, secretary of the New Iberia chamber.

George E. Schneider, general manager of the New Orleans Association of Commerce, discussed state legislative problems and legislative forum, followed by Caye Nelson, assistant director of the state department of commerce and industry, who spoke on co-operation between the state department and the Chamber of Commerce. "Chuck" Burr, manager of the Ruston chamber, concluded with a talk on what Louisiana Chamber of Commerce should be doing for agriculture.

The delegates then took in a sightseeing tour by bus over the city, before returning to the hotel for dinner.

Cameo Room, Hotel Virginia.

10:00—Characteristics of a Good Committee Meeting, C. W. Longwill, manager, Chamber of Commerce, Baton Rouge, and vice-president, L. A. C. C. M.

All L. A. C. C. M. members will be guests of the chain store managers group, retail merchants division, Chamber of Commerce, Monroe-West Monroe.

REQUESTS PROBE OF SALE OF NEW DRUG

RAHWAY, N. J., April 13—(AP)—Dr. Edward J. Carlin, Rahway Mayor, said today he had asked New York District Attorney Frank Hogan to investigate possible illegal sales in New York of the new drug, Streptomycin, which is under government control.

Dr. Carlin said he had taken the action after being informed by a New York physician, treating a 14-year-old girl, that he was asked exorbitant prices for quantities of the drug after being unable to obtain it through regular channels.

The mayor stated the New York physician, whom he did not identify, told him $125 was paid for the first dose, and that two others were obtained for $100 each. When he sought more, Dr. Carlin said, the New York doctor was asked a price which he thought was too high.

Dr. Carlin quoted the New York physician as saying he had been turned down by controlling authorities of Streptomycin at Boston before going to outside sources and after noting that the patient showed improvement under administration of the drug had again appealed to the control agent but was still unable to obtain any.

The Rahway mayor said it was then he was contacted in the hope that he might be able to assist in getting some of the drug from Merck and Co., which manufacture the drug at its plant here.

He added, that since the drug is under government control, he was unable to do so.

Dr. Carlin identified the patient as S. Gilbert and said she was in St. Clare's hospital with an infection of heart tissues.

NEGRO WOMAN IS SHOT IN ABDOMEN

Nellie Winston, 39, Negro, 1715 Breard street, received a serious abdominal wound last night when she was shot once through the stomach by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of her husband, Willie Winston, 37, according to a police report.

Police Captain H. T. Ward, who conducted an investigation of the shooting, quoted Winston as saying he was showing his wife how the 32-20 pistol worked when it accidentally discharged.

EVAPORATED MILK FOR ORLEANS CUT

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Evaporated milk wholesalers said today the supply of the product in the New Orleans area would be cut 40 per cent because of a decision by the Nestle Milk Products Company, New York, to discontinue shipments of the products here.

One wholesaler who asked not to be quoted by name referred to a letter he said had been received by all wholesalers in the area handling Nestles milk, in which the company said shipments were being suspended because OPA ceiling prices on the milk in case lots imposed a financial loss on the company.

The company pointed out, this wholesaler said, that manufacturing costs and the price of raw milk had increased since the ceilings were fixed in 1942, and that until a raise in the ceiling was granted, no further shipments could be made here.

Nestle officials in New York were not available for comment.

The decision was the second major development within a few weeks affecting New Orleans' milk supply. The Louisiana state board of health has ordered all "grade A" and other grade claims eliminated from fresh milk bottles pending an inspection of sanitary conditions at dairies and butter fat content of milk.

A. Lloyd Keller, president of the New Orleans Retail Grocers' Association, said grocers would undertake informal rationing of evaporated milk to mothers and others who needed it.

He said he hoped increased shipments of other brands would take up the slack, but that Nestles supplied nearly half the total used in this area.

WANT MORE ON PEARL HARBOR

Republican Senators Say Investigation 'Far From Complete'

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—Republican senators on the Pearl Harbor committee today called its investigation "far from complete" although the group has suspended hearings with scant prospect they will be resumed.

Senator Brewster (R.-Maine) told reporters "there is quite a field which still needs to be explored, particularly in the higher diplomatic echelon."

He said he wants to know more about why a proposed modus vivendi, or temporary arrangement with Japan, was dropped late in November, 1941. It would have covered a three-month period.

If it had gone through, Brewster said, the Japanese might never have attacked the United States. He recalled that Gen. George C. Marshall, former army chief of staff, testified the Japanese attack apparently was timed in belief the Germans were about to crush Russia.

But actually German offensive against Russia began to recede about the time of Japan's Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Pearl Harbor.

Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) in a separate interview said it had become apparent that former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson should have been a "key witness" in the Senate-House committee's inquiry.

The committee should find out, Ferguson declared, why Stimson asked on the night of Dec. 6 for a report on the location of all United States, British, Dutch and Japanese warships in the Pacific.

The committee learned in hearings earlier this week that the request was made. This was disclosed when it received the log kept by the watch officer at the navy department that night.

This officer, now Rear Admiral C. D. Glover, recorded that Maj. F. L. Harrison, Stimson's aide, called at 8 p. m. with the request for the information by 9 a. m. the following day.

Because of illness, Stimson was not called as a witness. He sent the committee a statement and excerpts from the diary he kept in pre-Pearl Harbor days.

The committee also has arranged to send written questions to him, and to former Secretary of State Cordell Hull whose testimony was brief on account of his health.

During the first nine months of 1934 there were 1104 strikes in the United States.

WARNERS' RHAPSODY IN BLUE IS AT THE HOLLYWOOD

CAUGHT PEEPING, NEGRO ARRESTED

A Negro youth said to have been caught "peeping" in upper-story windows of the Tourist Hotel, 518 Harrison street, was being questioned by Monroe police last night.

The 15-year-old boy, caught on an adjoining roof along which it is alleged he prowled from one hotel window to another, was quoted as saying last night was his "second trip" to the roof. Police Officers Allen Corbin and J. E. McMullen, who took the Negro into custody, were questioning the boy last night with Chief J. D. Busby and Sergeant H. J. McMurry.

Delaware, New Jersey and Georgia were the only states of the original 13 which ratified the Constitution unanimously.

SEEKING NAME FOR GIRL CAMP

Scout Council Will Consider Suggestions That Are Submitted

Finding a name for the Girl Scout camp is one of the biggest problems facing Scouts in the Twin Cities these days. In a contest, which is being sponsored by the Ouachita Parish Girl Scout Council, each troop is permitted to enter a name for the site recently chosen for the camp. From the list of titles submitted to a special committee of Council members, the most appropriate name will be selected. The winning troop will then be given a wiener roast or similar entertainment. The announcement was made by Mrs. Scott Hamilton, chairman of the public relations committee.

Screening, renovating, repairing and brush clearing around the camp are recent improvements which have made the place accessible for troops to spend the day or week-ends.

A day camp for Brownies and Girl Scouts is planned June 18 to July 3. Girls attending will reach camp by bus about 9:30 in the morning, and remain until 4 p. m. Each camper will bring her own lunch unless a cook-out is planned. Milk will be served at camp, with the cost being included in the Girl Scout's fee.

Older girls are permitted to remain over night at the cabin where they will be under care of adults, one for each eight girls. Someone who is skilled in first aid will be on duty.

Day camp is to be operated on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week during the time specified for outings this summer. The program will include basket weaving, wood craft, nature lore, story telling for Brownies and hikes.

Several additional Girl Scout troops have been organized since the Girl Scout leadership drive held in February under the chairmanship of Mrs. Rodney Cline. New Scout council members include Mrs. E. B. Whitten, Mrs. M. V. Montgomery and Mrs. Teddy Moore.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—What a congressman says in congress doesn't always appear in the Congressional Record the way he said it.

Some congressmen—perhaps most of them, at one time or another—say one thing on the floor of House or Senate and then—

Then they call for the stenographer's word-by-word account and change it before it gets printed in the Record.

They'll have different reasons for doing this: To correct their grammar, soften up something, or dress up their porse.

Some of them don't bother asking for the stenographer's record. They depend on the stenographer to clean up their grammar.

The late Senator Huey P. Long liked to scramble the language deliberately, making himself sound like a simple country boy.

He did this when he talked on the Senate floor but he didn't want it that way in the Record.

One day a sadly worried stenographer said to Long:

"You know, Senator, I always fix up your grammar but today you made so many mistakes I wonder whether you did it deliberately."

"Sure," Long said, "but keep on taking care of me. I just talked that way because I thought the gallery would like it."

The House has six official stenographers, and the Senate six. All are men, with years of stenography behind them.

They are called reporters and can take 250 to 300 words a minute.

Each reporter works on the floor about 10 minutes of every hour. Then, back in his office, he dictates from his notes into a recording machine.

Batteries of expert typists—called transcribers—put on their earphones, turn on the record, and type the reporter's dictated notes.

If a congressman is concerned about what he said, he sends word to the reporter that he wants a copy of his talk.

The system is so fast he gets the copy—only one copy is made—within an hour of his talk.

Sometimes congressmen forget to turn in this copy, shove it in their pockets and go home with it.

Because it's the only copy, they have to be chased all over town, sometimes far into the night, by clerks to get the copy back.

All this copy—sometimes more than 150,000 words a day—starts flowing into the public printer by 6:30 p. m. The deadline is midnight.

In addition to what is said on the floor, the Record carries a section called the appendix. No stenography is needed for this.

Into the appendix the congressmen shove copies of poems, speeches they made somewhere, editorials, news stories, letters, and even book reviews.

By morning the public printer has turned out 41,500 copies. Total cost for the year is about $750,000.

Every representative and senator has at least one copy delivered to his office. Senators are allowed 100 a day, representatives 69.

Many of them send these extra copies to friends who want them. The public can buy the Record, $1.50 a month. The superintendent of documents takes the subscription.

The oldest reporter—in point of service—is James W. Murphy. He's been shorthanding Senate speeches 49 years. His father before him was a Senate reporter, starting in 1860 and dying in 1916.

Murphy's father's brother, Dennis Murphy, was the earliest of the Murphy family to work in the Senate. He started there as a reporter in 1848 and continued until his death in 1896.

REDSKINS WILL PRESENT SHOW

All Student Cast Will Give Variety Performance At N. J. C.

"Redskins on Parade," Northeast Junior College student variety show, is again on its way to production. Under the direction of Miss Sarah Helen Word, speech instructor, an all-student cast has combined to offer some of the best talent on the campus. The performance is scheduled May 10 in Brown Hall auditorium at the college.

Responsibility for directing the show has been placed to a large extent on students, with Juanita Ferguson, Tallulah sophomore, serving as student director. Various phases of the direction have been assigned to others.

Under the leadership of Roy "Tut" Whittington, Monroe veteran student, an orchestra has been organized for the special event. The group comprises Carl Fontana, playing the trombone and bass; Donald Crane, drummer; Gene Gregg, playing trumpet; Marie Moore and Whitington at the pianos.

The chorus comprises Jenny Jo Blanchard, Barbara Finlay, Cherry Philley, Elizabeth Adkins, Jane Shea and Ruth Hamilton. Miss Blanchard, Miss Shea and Beto Medina were chosen by Martha Carroll, voice director, as soloists.

James McBeth and James Perry will portray the reminiscing soldiers who tie the show together with dialogue. Entertainment will include a comic Negro skit with J. M. Johnson and Gene Smith in the leads. A night club scene featuring Robert Powell and Yvonne Lusk as master of ceremonies and visiting movie actress, respectively, will round out the drama, directed by Bonnie Holloway.

The dancing chorus completes the cast. It will feature Patsy Snelling, Libby Siegle, Nadia Tucker, Barbara Ellis, Marguerite Aston, Elizabeth Adkins, Dorothy Jo Jones and Estanna Williams.

Since its first production in 1941, "Redskins on Parade" has been presented yearly with the exception of 1944 when it had to be cancelled because of war conditions.

Originated by Zach Daughtry and Billy Canterbury, two N. J. C. students from Monroe, the theme of the show has continued to run along the lines of a typical college revue with its quota of frolic, dances and songs. The performance is sponsored annually by the Student Council.

URGE MORE WELLS FOR DELHI AREA

Increase In Spacing Asked In Petitions; Hearing Next Thursday

Petitions signed by 175 owners of lands, mineral royalties and oil and gas leases in the Delhi Trend area and business leaders and public officials of Richland and Franklin parishes, will be presented to the Louisiana conservation commission next Thursday, asking that spacing of wells in the Delhi and Big Creek fields be extended from one to each 40 acres to one to each 10 acres.

The petitions will be submitted at a meeting at New Orleans when the commission will conduct a hearing on proposed regulations for the two fields. J. C. Wynne, of Tyler, Texas, holder of many leases and owner of one well in the area, who is one of the leaders in the move for increased production, will appear at the meeting with attorneys and a representative of the oil engineering firm of Hudnall & Pirtle of Tyler. Copies of the petition were circulated in Monroe yesterday by Atty. Harry N. Morris of Shreveport, another oil operator, and signatures of local men interested in the field were obtained.

"Competent petroleum engineers and geologists have expressed the opinion that the restriction of drilling of one well to each 40 acres will not adequately drain all of the recoverable oil under a tract of that size," the petition reads. "On the other hand if wells are permitted to be drilled to each ten acres much more oil will be recovered within a reasonable length of time, and will enhance the value of royalty and property with resultant additional revenue to the parishes and state in severance taxes.

"Drilling of more wells will provide increased employment, stimulate use and sale of materials and supplies and add considerably to the reconversion program and to property values in this area.

"In other oil fields of the state the rule for spacing of wells at the shallow and inexpensive depth found in this area is one well to 10 acres, or less, as in the Vivian and Oil City fields in Caddo parish, the Ritchie and Evangeline fields in Acadia, the Anse LaButte in St. Martins, the Vinton field in Calcasieu and the Cheneyville field in Rapides."

MAY MERGE SCHOOLS

MARION, April 13.—(Special)—Next Tuesday the taxpayers of Union parish will go to the polls and vote on the question of putting all the school districts of the parish into one district to be known as Consolidated School District Number One, thus eliminating the various school districts in the parish.

Boyle's Notebook

By Hal Boyle

NAPLES, April 13—(AP)—Naples is still the world's civic "sad sack."

If the world's metropolises were rated on the stock market, Naples would be selling at zero. It is even disowned by the Northern Italians who always speak of it as "Italy's shame," of the "Cesspool of Italy."

Some refuse to admit that Naples is in Italy at all, and there is an old saying that "Africa begins 20 miles south of Rome."

Mussolini himself could not clean up the Neapolitans or cure them of their lifelong cynicism and happy go lucky aptitude for depravity. Naples is just a throwback to Paris in the days of Francois Villon—city that never quite grew out the middle ages.

It is a place where most people prefer to do nothing for themselves, if they think they can get anyone else to do it for them. It is a place where thousands would rather work all day selling fake cameos than they would spend 15 minutes washing an honest window. It is the home grounds for all the confidence rackets ever spawned.

In a half hour's walk through its streets you can meet more thieves, liars, racketeers, chiselers, cutthroats, gamblers, ingenious beggars and short change artists — all fairly happy, hungry and good-natured—than any place.

I guess that's why I like Naples so well. You meet more interesting people there than anywhere except in jail. Naples is Sing Sing without walls.

There is a legend that a committee once set out to find and reward an honest Neapolitan. After months of search the committee finally located a decrepit old man, who seemed to fill the bill. When told the nature of the reward being proffered him, he became very indignant.

"You mistake me for a Neapolitan?" he roared. "I am a visitor from Padua."

When the American army first entered Naples in October 1943 the streets ankle deep in filth and the people wretched. The streets are cleaner now, but the people remain wretched. They likely will remain so unless they change their philosophy of life, or cease trying to outbreed the insect world. War cannot be blamed for all their troubles.

The streets have been repaired, most of the debris piles have been removed, but it will take more than a superficial face lifting to restore Naples wrinkled, unrepentant heart.

Poverty is widespread and truly predatory. Children are born to parents whose own views were twisted from birth. There is much deep family love but little civil responsibility. less civic pride.

Neapolitans take to the black market like a tomcat to a stranded fish. If there were six people left in Naples and food enough for 20, two would corner the supply and sell it on the black market to the other four. And after a while one black market operator would find his partner was stealing from him.

Naples needs food. There is no doubt a large part of its population lives always on the edge of starvation. But as much as food it needs a new Hercules to clean this stable of Italy.

WHEN THE DEAD WARRIOR WAS DISCOVERED, THE FURIOUS LEADER SOUNDED A WHISTLE THAT THREW THE BATS INTO A FRENZY....AND CURSED THEM IN THE NAME OF ALL THE GODS! THEIR BLOODLUST HAD TAKEN A FRIEND.
SUDDENLY, THE ERSTWHILE ENGLISH LORD REALIZED HE UNDERSTOOD THEIR LANGUAGE --THE SPEECH OF ANCIENT EGYPT. HE HAD LEARNED IT AT OXFORD.
AT LAST, TARZAN BEHELD A CRUMBLING CITY, HALF-HIDDEN BY JUNGLE, LIKE A FORGOTTEN DREAM OF OLD EGYPT COME TRUE...AND HE HEARD HIS WITHERED CAPTORS CALL IT PTAH-NAK, CITY OF THE VAMPIRES.
Robinson
IN THE CITY, AS THEY LED HIM IN TO A TEMPLE, HE HEARD THE MEN SPEAK OF THE FULFILLMENT OF A PROPHECY. HE WONDERED....

VAMPIRE GODDESS!

LI'L ABNER
by AL CAPP
A GREAT PLASTIC SURGERY SANITARIUM RELEASES A PATIENT.
ROGER J. CREEP'S FACE WAS GROUND TO A PULP WHILE EXAMINING A HAMBURGER MACHINE !! - HE SELECTED VARIOUS FEATURES FOR A NEW FACE - AND THAT IS THE RESULT.
THINK OF LOOKING INTO A FACE LIKE THAT OVER YOUR BREAKFAST TABLE!!!
HE'S ADORABLE!!
THERE HE IS!!
LET HIM HAVE IT, BOYS!!
MERCY ME!!
JUMP IN, BOSS!!!
CHEE! BOSS! YOU SHOULDN'T OF TOOK A CHANC'T GOIN' OUT SO SOON AFTER YER JAILBREAK!!
J-JAIL-BREAK!!
YER FACE IS TOO WELL KNOWN, BOSS, - IN FACT - IT'S YER DEATH WARRANT-!!
RIGHT!!
IT'S GAT GARSON, DE BOSS!! - B-BUT WHO IS DIS UDDER MONKEY?
MY DOUBLE-YOKUM, O' COURSE!
N-NO! - I'M ROGER J. CREEP I'VE HAD AN ACCIDENT
THIS FACE IS MERELY THE RESULT OF PLASTIC SURGERY!! ANY RESEMBLANCE TO YOURS IS PURELY COINCIDENTAL!!
OUCH
TOO BAD YOU PICKED THAT PARTICULAR MUG, CHUM!! - BOYS!! - I'LL TAKE HIM INTO TH' DARK ROOM AN' SOFTEN HIM UP. THEN COME IN AN' GET HIM, PACK HIM IN CEMENT - AN' HEAVE HIM INTO THE RIVER!!
LATER
HEAVE HO!
("MY EXPERTNESS AT JU-JITSU CAME IN HANDY IN THAT DARK ROOM!! - NOW TO SLIP AWAY WHILE THEY DISPOSE OF MR. GARSON!! AT LAST!! - I HAVE THE ONLY FACE OF IT'S KIND IN THE WORLD!!")
TO BE CONTINUED--

JUNGLE JIM
Registered U. S. Patent Office.
JIM PRETENDS A TOURIST'S IGNORANT INTEREST AS HE WATCHES THE SKIN-DIVERS BRING UP LOADS OF PEARL-SHELL: "LET ME OPEN SOME. I'D GET A KICK OUT OF FINDING A PEARL FOR YOU." DOK TOY SHRUGS ASSENT.
JIM OPENS SHELL AFTER SHELL IN VAIN. BUT IT'S KEEN-EYED LIL WHO SPOTS A NATIVE PALMING A PEARL: "OOH, LET'S SEE THAT ONE -- WHY, IT'S A BLACK PEARL!"
4-14-46
"FOOL!" DOK TOY MUTTERS, THEN TURNS BLANDLY TO JIM: "YOU WANT FIND SHELL, TRY DIVE? WE GOT SUIT." JIM ACCEPTS THE CHALLENGE, ANXIOUS TO CHECK THE OYSTER BEDS WHICH CHEN FU HAD REPORTED WERE PETERING OUT.
Copr. 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
LIL AND KOLU TAKE THE LIFELINE TO CHECK JIM'S SIGNALS, AND QUIETLY WATCH DOK TOY AT THE AIR PUMP. AND JIM, IN THE CLUMSY DIVING SUIT, GAMBLES HIS LIFE AGAINST THE CHANCE OF TREACHERY AND UNDERWATER PERIL.
NEXT WEEK: MAGIC WORLD.

FLASH GORDON
Registered U. S. Patent Office.
YOU AMUSE ME FOR A MOMENT. GO ON WITH YOUR NONSENSE ABOUT BEING KING," VALKIR LAUGHS. FLASH SAYS, "IT'S NO NONSENSE, BEING PRESIDENT OF MONGO -- WITH THAT MADMAN, KANG, LOOSE IN YOUR LAND OF VALKR, ARMED WITH ATOM ROCKETS THAT CAN WRECK OUR PLANET."
"KANG? WHY, THAT'S THE MAN WHO CRASHED--" MARKO BEGINS. BUT VALKIR SILENCES HIM: "DON'T INTERRUPT ME, PRINCELING. I'M NOT INTERESTED IN THE SILLY PROBLEMS OF OTHER LANDS, WHERE MEN PRETEND TO BE AS IMPORTANT AS WOMEN."
"I SEE YOU NEED A LESSON, MY FLASH. DO YOU DREAM YOU'RE STRONG ENOUGH TO WRESTLE WITH ME? NO, I MUSTN'T BREAK YOUR NECK. BUT PERHAPS YOU THINK YOU'RE GOOD WITH SWORDS?"
FLASH SMILES, "I WON'T FIGHT A WOMAN. BUT I'D ENJOY A FENCING CONTEST."
N VALKR, FENCING IS NOT CHILDISH MAN'S PLAY" VALKIR SNEERS; "WE FIGHT TILL THE VICTOR CHOOSES WHETHER TO KILL OR GAIN A SLAVE.--- UNLESS YOU'RE AFRAID---" FLASH SHRUGS: YOU'RE MAKING THE RULES, VALKIR."
VALKR'S FEMALE NOBILITY APPLAUD AS THEIR QUEEN AND FINEST SWORDSWOMAN STARTS TO PUT THIS INSOLENT MAN IN HIS PLACE --- PERHAPS THE GRAVE ---
Copr. 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
UNWILLING TO WOUND A WOMAN, FLASH CAN HARDLY BEAT OFF VALKIR'S RECKLESS, BRILLIANT, DEADLY ATTACK. HE ONLY FEINTS, NOT DRIVING HOME A FATAL RIPOSTE WHEN SHE LEAVES AN OPENING. TWICE SHE WOUNDS HIM, NARROWLY MISSING A FATAL SPOT!
NEXT WEEK: CONQUEST!

Little Orphan Annie
"WEST OF THE PECOS" ISN'T THE ONLY PLACE WHERE LAW AND SUDDEN JUSTICE REST IN A STEADY EYE AND A FAST GUN HAND----
WHY, HONEY! I NEVER SAW YOU LOOK SO MAD BEFORE! WHAT ON EARTH IS TH' MATTER?
SIXTEEN OF OUR CHICKENS KILLED, RIGHT IN THE COOP!
BUT HOW? WHAT COULD HAVE GOT INTO THAT COOP ---EXCEPT MAYBE ABERCROMBIE?
A BLACKSNAKE IS NO KILLER, JUST FOR FUN! I KNOW WHAT DID THIS--- IT WAS A MINK!
B-B-BUT A MINK IS AWFUL QUICK--- AND NOT VERY BIG--- EVEN IF YOU SEE IT, HOW DO YOU 'SPECT TO HIT IT WITH THAT THING?
WELL, I DON'T AIM TO THROW THIS THING AT IT---
MINKS ARE CRUEL AND BLOODTHIRSTY--- THEY DON'T KILL JUST FOR FOOD--- THEY DO IT FOR FUN! THEY'RE OUTLAWS---
I'VE HEARD THAT--- BUT CAN'T YOU TRAP 'EM?
WE DID TRAP A FEW LAST WINTER--- BUT THEY'RE AWFULLY CRAFTY--- WE MISSED THIS ONE--- OR MAYBE HE'S JUST MOVED IN--- MOVED IN? BUT WHERE DO YOU THINK HE IS NOW?
SH-H-H--- I THINK HE'S TAKEN OVER AN OLD DEN, UNDER THOSE ROOTS--- I'LL TOSS A BEBBLE OVER THAT WAY--- WATCH!
THERE! HE'S PEEKIN' OUT, TO SEE WHAT THAT WAS--- LEAPIN' LIZARDS! YOU BLEW HIS HEAD RIGHT OFF! CAN YOU DO A TRICK LIKE THAT EVERY TIME?
WHY, THAT'S NOTHING SPECIAL FOR ANYBODY IN SMOKY HOLLOW---
EVERY KID HEREABOUTS IS SUPPOSED TO SHOOT, FROM THE TIME HE CAN WALK--- IF I'D MISSED THAT SHOT--- WHY, GRAMPA'D HAVE TAKEN ME TO SEE AN EYE DOCTOR-
4-14-46
BUT WITH EVERBODY SO HANDY WITH GUNS, YOU MUST HAVE A LOT O' SHOOTIN'S--- ISN'T THERE A LAW AGAINST HAVIN' GUNS?
A LAW AGAINST HAVING GUNS? GRACIOUS! WHY, THEN ONLY CRIMINALS WOULD HAVE GUNS--- NO, WE DON'T HAVE CRIME-
HAROLD GRAY
WHY, IF ANY HOODLUM STARTED TO SAY "STICK 'EM UP" IN SMOKY HOLLOW, HE'D BE LUCKY TO LIVE LONG ENOUGH TO SAY MORE THAN "STICK---"
GEE! THAT I CAN BELIEVE!

SMILIN' JACK
I'M SORRY TO LEARN THAT SIMONE LEGREETE ESCAPED FROM THE LOCAL JAIL! SHE MAY MAKE A REVENGEFUL ATTACK ON YOU!
TRUE, BUT YOU KNOW THAT ISN'T THE MAIN THING THAT HAS KICKED THE CHOCKS OUT FROM UNDER ME, CINDY!
A FELLOW CAN'T HELP BUT FEEL DEFLATED WHEN HE ASKS A GIRL TO MARRY HIM--- AND SHE SAYS NO!
I DIDN'T SAY NO, JACK!--- I JUST SAID I STILL DON'T BELIEVE YOU ARE SERIOUS!
DAYTON SUZANNE
WE'VE BEEN FRIENDS FOR YEARS, BUT SINCE IT HAS TAKEN YOU SO LONG TO GET AROUND TO PROPOSING---
--- I JUST COULDN'T HELP BUT BELIEVE THAT YOU WANT ME MORE AS A MOTHER FOR JUNGLE JOLLY, THAN BECAUSE OF LOVE!
THAT'S YOUR ANALYSIS. NOW I'LL TELL YOU WHAT I THINK!
---I'VE LEARNED FROM YOUR DAUGHTER THAT MY BROTHER REX FELL IN LOVE WITH YOU WHILE I WAS AWAY!
--- BUT I DON'T BLAME HIM! HE HAD NO IDEA I WAS SERIOUS ABOUT YOU!
I KNOW NOW THAT THAT IS WHY YOU DIDN'T SAY YES TO ME! I CAN SEE IT IN YOUR EYES, CINDY--- YOU'RE IN LOVE WITH REX!
NOT SO FAST, JACK. I HAVEN'T COMMITTED MYSELF ONE WAY OR THE OTHER! YOU SEE--- NEVER MIND EXPLAINING! I KNOW WHERE I STAND! HERE COMES REX NOW!
HELLO, JACK--- SAY, I'VE GOT A CONFESSION TO MAKE! I WAS STUNNED WHEN YOU TOLD ME YOU WERE GOING TO ASK CINDY TO WED YOU---
WELL I'LL BE HONEST WITH YOU! I WAS SERIOUS ABOUT CINDY MYSELF--- ALMOST ASKED HER TO MARRY ME!
BUT, BELIEVE ME--- I DIDN'T KNOW THERE WAS ANYTHING SERIOUS BETWEEN YOU TWO!
---BUT I UNDERSTAND NOW! REALLY! CINDY MEANS NOTHING TO ME! BEST OF LUCK TO YOU TWO!
YOU'RE ALL WRONG, REX! CINDY AND I HAVE BEEN PALS FOR YEARS--
BUT IF WE'D BEEN MEANT FOR EACH OTHER WE'D HAVE BEEN MARRIED LONG AGO!
I'M SURE I WAS ALL WET IN THINKIN' I LOVED HER! I'LL STEP ASIDE, REX!
NO, REX--- SHE'S YOURS!

MOON MULLINS
by Frank Willard
DE'S A SWELL STATUE, CALL "LAUGHING BOY" BEEGA BARGAIN. ON'Y TWO DULLAH!
MAKE IT $1.25 AND I'LL GIVE IT TO MY LADY FRIEND FOR HER BIRTHDAY.
WILL HE BITE?
THAT'S WOT I WANNA FIND OUT.
WOT TH'--?
WUFF!
LISTEN, KAYO, THAT MUTT MIGHTA MADE ME BUST THAT STATUE, THEN YOU KNOW WHO I COULD SUE?
NO! I'LL BITE, WHO?
GEE! IF THE DAME IN THAT CAR AIN'T MARY FRANCES SHE'S SURE TH' SPLITTIN' IMAGE OF HER.
KERASH!
OH, BOY! NOW, WILL I CATCH IT!
I SEEN WHAT HAPPENED TO MY STATUE, KAYO!
ONLY ONCT! I ONLY DROPPED IT ONCT, MOON.
GIT THIS MUTT AWAY FROM ME.
4-14
MR. STAUTZ, YOU KNOW WOT THAT DAWG OF YOURS DONE? WELL, FIRST HE TOOK A SAMPLE OUTTA ME BRUDDER MOON'S PANTS AND NOW HE'S GOT HIM UP A TREE.
THAT'S THE THIRD COMPLAINT... SNIFF SNIFF ... ABOUT YOU, JOJO. NOW I SUPPOSE ...SNIFF... I'LL HAVE TO DISPOSE OF YOU ...SNIFF--
OVER MY DEAD BODY YOU WILL, MR. STAUTZ. I WANNA BUY THAT DAWG!
AW, GEE! THAT'S SWELL!
KONK!

THE GUMPS
WELL, ONE THING IS PROVED-- MEN ARE MORE EFFICIENT THAN WOMEN-- TRISHA TRIED FOR WEEKS TO GET RID OF THAT $5,000,000-- JON DID IT OVERNIGHT!
BOY, OH, BOY! I SURE WISH I HAD THE LUCK TO FIND FIVE MILLION BUCKS IN A SUITCASE IN PLACE OF SOME OLD UNDERWEAR!
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.: Copyright, 1946 by The Chicago Tribune.
ONLY A SAP WOULD TAKE THE CHANCE OF PARKING ALL THAT LETTUCE IN A BUSY RAILROAD CHECKROOM-- MISTAKES DO HAPPEN!!
I WONDER WHO THE LUCKY PARTY WAS WHO GOT JON'S BAG!
MEANWHILE-- HURRYING ABOARD A SHIP--
JUST THINK, KEENAN-- WE COULD HAVE BEEN THE PROUD PARENTS OF $5,000,000.
YEAH-- IF YOU HADN'T FOULED UP THE WORKS BY SHOOTING STARDUST--
WHY YOU UNGRATEFUL SKUNK! I DID IT FOR YOU!
HA! DON'T MAKE ME LAUGH-- MY MOTHER TOLD ME NEVER TO TRUST A RED-HEADED WOMAN!
YOU-- YOU TWO-FACED, DOUBLE-CROSSING-- YOU DON'T EVEN TRUST YOURSELF!! AND TO THINK THAT I--
--HAND ME THAT TAN SUITCASE!
WHAT'S THE MATTER?!
HEY!! YOU JUST TOSSED MY BEST PAIR OF NYLONS OVERBOARD--
TO SAY NOTHING OF SOME VERY INCRIMINATING EVIDENCE THAT YOU SO CARELESSLY PACKED WITH THE OTHER THINGS MY TRIGGER-HAPPY ROSEBUD!
WHAT IRONY! THE SUITCASE TOSSED OVERBOARD CONTAINED TRISHA'S $5,000,000--
EXACTLY, MY SWEET-- WHY DO YOU THINK I THREW THAT BAG OVERBOARD?
4-14
ALL RIGHT, YOU TWO-- THE PLAY'S OVER!
SORRY, BUT I DON'T BELIEVE I'VE HAD THE PLEASURE--
OH, WELL-- HERE WE GO AGAIN--
